JUDGE HOUGH SAYS THE LEVER LAW IS UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Renders Decision Against the Government on the Cotton Futures Act of 1914.

RESULT OF TEST SUIT

It Originated in Senate While Such Measures Should Originate in the House.

New York, Oct. 13.—The cotton futures act of August 18, 1914, known as the Lever law, was declared unconstitutional today by Federal District Judge Hough, because, as a revenue measure, it originated in the Senate instead of the House, as the constitution requires. The decision was rendered in a test suit brought by Samuel T. Hubbard of the cotton brokerage firm of Hubbard Brothers, and others, to recover $1,000 paid under protest to John Z. Lowe, Jr., collector of internal revenue, under the provisions of the law. Judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiffs.

The suit alleged the act was unconstitutional, first, because it originated in the Senate, and, second, because the law taxed the manner of performing the transaction instead of the transaction itself. Judge Hough sustained the first contention, but gave no finding on the second. He said:

Was Never a Law.

"The bill known as the Cotton Futures Act, approved August 18, 1914, never was and is not a law of the United States and therefore as a proposition it is no longer open to discussion.

"This is one of the legislative projects which, to be a law, must originate in the lower house. The constitution provides that all bills for revenue must originate in the House of Representatives. It is seen how this court can disregard information furnished by Congress itself.

"It is most unsatisfactory to grant decision upon so technical a point, but such as it is this finding disposes of the case, and I must leave undiscussed the arguments equally able and instructive upon the other and permanent branch of the litigation."

Concerning the contention of government attorneys that the act was designed primarily to prevent speculation in cotton futures, Judge Hough said it was immaterial what intent was behind the act so long as Congress had labelled it a tax measure.

Causes Break in Market.

After reports of the decision reached cotton traders there was a sharp break in the market. Until then cotton had been firm, with January contracts selling more than $1.50 a bale over Monday's closing, but news of the decision carried prices down almost to Monday's levels.

Later the opinion was expressed that the decision would not effect existing contracts and rallies of from 10 to 15 points followed. The market remained unsteady until the close, however, and opinions upon the effect of the decision were divergent.

The cotton futures act became operative February 18 and if the higher courts sustain Judge Hough or if the government does not appeal, all of the money collected under the law will have to be refunded.

Designed Against Speculation.

Although the act placed a tax of two cents a pound upon all transactions in cotton for future delivery, it was openly avowed by its sponsors as being a measure designed to prevent speculation in cotton futures. This form of trading formed a considerable portion of the business done between cotton brokerage firms in the United States and Liverpool. When it became operative trading in futures was curtailed. The business done by two or three large New York and New Orleans firms rapidly dwindled and several prominent cotton brokers prepared to retire.

GOVERNMENT MAY APPEAL.

Attorney General Gregory Declined to Say What Action Would be Taken.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Attorney General Gregory declined tonight to indicate whether the Department of Justice would appeal from the decision of Judge Hough holding the cotton futures act unconstitutional. It is believed in official circles, however, that an appeal will be taken.

The decision was a surprise to officials familiar with the law and with the debates in Congress which preceded its enaitment. The Department of Justice was cognizant of the fact that the bill originated in the Senate, but is understood to have relied mainly upon the fact that the Senate bill did not contain any taxing provisions such as are in the law as finally agreed upon in conference.

During the debates there was no suggestion that the validity of the law might be questioned because of its origin. It was regarded as a punitive measure, designed to tax or prevent dealings in futures, and the taxation method of dealing with future transactions finally was selected in preference to others proposed, such as forbidding the use of the mails to persons dealing in futures.

SERBIA IS MAKING STUBBORN DEFENSE AGAINST INVASION

WASHINGTON, D. C. Library of Congress.

Austro-Germans, With Greater Armies, Making Steady But Slow Progress.

ALLIED MOVES SECRET

Many Bulgarians Averse to Fighting Against Allies, Particularly Russia.

London, October 13.—The near east, with the Austro-German and Bulgarian invasion of Serbia, the Anglo-French landing at Saloniki, the promised active intervention of Russia and the diplomatic possibilities in Greece and Rumania, continues to be the center of interest throughout the belligerent countries.

The Serbians, although greatly outnumbered by armies with superior equipment, are making a stubborn defense of their country and while the Austro-German progress is steady it is very slow and probably will become slower when it reaches the mountains where the Serbians are strongly entrenched.

Bulgaria Strengthens Fortifications.

Of the Bulgarian campaign nothing new has been received since Nish reported the repulse of the invaders; while the movements of the Anglo-French and Russian forces have thus far been kept from the public's knowledge. The Russians have no easy task before them if they intend to land in Bulgaria. Varna and the other Bulgarian black sea ports where a landing might be made, have been strongly fortified under the direction of German officers and are protected by mine fields.

The Russians could sail down the Danube, as that is an international waterway, but it is doubtful if they have the necessary transport; while to come through Rumania would require the consent of the government of that country, which, although considered friendly to the Entente Powers, might not wish to risk Germany's displeasure.

Italy's Decision Disappointing.

Some disappointment is expressed here at the decision of Italy not to participate. Italy has laid claim to great influence in the Balkans and is known to have aspirations in Asia Minor, which the junction of Germans and Turks, it is pointed out, would virtually bring to an end. With superfluous forces and excellent transport facilities, the view is held in London that Italy is in a better position than any of the Allies to lend a hand, and the hope is expressed that she will yet do so.

In the meantime the Allies are closely watching developments in the internal situation in Bulgaria, where many of the people are averse to fighting against the Allies, particularly Russia. It is reported from Paris tonight that General Savoff, former Bulgarian minister of war and former commander-in-chief of the Bulgarian army, has resigned his command rather than fight against Russia. It is thought that the landing of Russians in Bulgaria might result in a change in the policy of that country even this late in the day.

$400,000,000 FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE MAY BE ASKED FOR

Amount President and Advisers at Present Think Should be Appropriated

INCREASE $140,000,000

Bond Issue May be Proposed as Means of Meeting Additional Expense

Washington, Oct. 13.—Four hundred million dollars for national defense—an increase of approximately $140,000,000 over last year—is the amount President Wilson and his advisers at present estimate should be appropriated by the next Congress for the army and navy. As the date—Friday—for completion of the annual estimates draws near, the President is doing preliminary consideration to the national defense budget, out of which it is hoped to lay down a stronger naval programme than the United States has ever authorized in its history and similarly a larger provision for the military establishment than has been customary in time of peace.

President Approves Army Plan.

The President has had before him for several weeks the outlines of a military policy of continuing character framed by Secretary of War Garrison after more than a year's study with officers of the general staff. With it the President is in hearty accord. While the details have not been revealed, a substantial increase in the regular army, probably from 87,000 to at least 120,000 men, and the creation of a reserve of perhaps 400,000 through short term enlistment service are said to be parts of the army plan.

As yet the exact appropriation to be recommended for the army and navy, respectively, has not been fixed. Indications are that the army's budget of $[illegible],000,000 last year will be increased by at least $60,000,000, while Secretary Daniels is figuring on obtaining at least $100,000,000 increase over the navy appropriation of $148,000,000 last year.

When the President and the Secretaries of War and Navy confer next week, it is understood an effort will be made to bring the total sum within the $400,000,000 mark as at present the combined total which the two branches of the service will submit to the President, it is said would make about $450,000,000.

Would be $140,000,000 Increase

If the needs of the two services can be cut to $400,000,000 the total increase over last year would be about $140,000,000. The general view in administration quarters now is that a bond issue will be proposed as a means of meeting the added expense.

The President's determination to urge upon Congress in his next message a defense programme to cost about $400,000,000 has been emphasized in high official quarters in the last few days, following Mr. Wilson's recent speech saying the American people were convinced that the United States should be very adequately prepared not for war, but for defense.

Much interest is manifest in the conference the Uresident intends having with members of Congress at which it is believed the procedure for the army and navy bills will be discussed. Both will be given right of way over

GREAT BATTLE IN SERBIA EXPECTED

When the Combind Forces of the Enemies Clash

REVIEW OF WAR NEWS

Russians Have Gained Another Victory in Southeast Galicia—Eight Killed and 34 Injured in Zeppelin Raid Over London.

With the Germans and Austrians pressing through Serbia, the world awaits expectantly the great battle that must come when the Teutons and their Bulgarian ally meet the combined forces of the Serbs, the British and the French.

The Germans and Austrians are encountering stubborn resistance from Serb forces left behind to check them, and Berlin admits that this resistance has retarded the Teutonic forward movement.

The capture of Serbian positions south of Belgrade and at other points is reported by Berlin, but Nish claims the Teutons are paying a heavy till, especially before Lipa, where the battlefield is covered with bodies.

So far as is known the Russian army, which the French premier announced was to fight shoulder to shoulder in the Balkans with the French and British has not yet entered the arena, nor is its point of attack indicated.

The situation in both Greece and Rumania remains unchanged, both these countries remaining neutral.

Greece has notified Serbia that she is unable to come to the aid of her treaty-ally.

The Russians have gained another victory along the river on the southern East Galicia front. They have pierced the last line of Austrian defenses and stormed one of their strongest points on the Austro-German right flank.

Although this fighting is not far from the northern Rumanian frontier and indicates that the Russians have brought up strong forces here, there is nothing to show that it is in any way connected with the struggle in the Balkans.

On the western line the Germans in Artois have made violent attacks against allied positions, preceding them with terrific bombardments. At one point they penetrated trenches which had been shattered by shells, but everywhere else were repulsed with heavy losses, according to Paris. Elsewhere along the French and Belgian fronts artillery duels have predominated.

In Russia the hardest fighting seems to be in the Dvinsk region where Berlin says the Russian attack against the German line which is endeavoring to capture the city broke down under artillery fire.

Eight persons are known to have been killed and thirty-four injured in a new raid over London by Zeppelins. No great material damage was done by the airships, according to the British home office.

The French government has received a decisive vote of confidence in the chamber of deputies on its war policy. The vote was 372 to 9.

COTTON PLANTERS ADVISED TO BEGIN FIGHTING BOLL WEEVIL

Warning Given of Widespread Movement of Insect in Many States.

Washington, Oct. 13.—Cotton planters in Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia, Tennessee, Oklahoma and Texas, were warned, in a Department of Agriculture statement tonight, of a widespread movement of the boll weevil and advised to take immediate steps to kill off the pest this winter to prevent threatened heavy losses in next year's crops.

The department urges planters in Oklahoma and the infested sections of Texas and Tennessee to begin immediately to pick their cotton and destroy the plants, either plowing them under the soil or burning them. An active campaign against the weevil is suggested for the other states.

Unusual storms last August and a very rapid multiplication of the weevil in Texas, it is pointed out, have resulted in a tremendous movement into Northwestern Texas and Oklahoma.

EIGHT KILLED; 34 INJURED IN AIR RAID OVER LONDON

London, Oct. 13.—Zeppelin airships have made another raid over London, dropping bombs. Eight persons are declared to have been killed and about 34 injured. The home office shortly after midnight made the following report:

"A Zeppelin raid was made yesterday evening over a portion of the London area, when a number of incendiary and explosive bombs were dropped. The material damage done was small. The admiralty will issue a statement when particulars are available.

"At present it is only possible to say that no public buildings were injured and that the casualties so far reported number two women and six men killed and about 34 injured.—With the exception of a soldier killed all these were civilians."

BOSTON AMERICANS ARE WORLD'S CHAMPIONS; HOOPER'S HOME RUN GIVES PHILLIES FOURTH DEFEAT

With Score Tied, Red Sox Go to Bat in the Ninth and Draw Winning Count.

PHILLIES TWICE IN LEAD

Foster, While Hit Hard, Outpitched His Two Rivals Mayer and Rixey

Four Home Runs, Triple and Double Featured Game.

Philadelphia, Oct. 13. — In the fading sunlight of a beautiful October afternoon, Harry Hooper, of Capitola, California, yearning for the Golden Gate with all the fervor of a native son, decided to bring the world's series of 1915 to a close. Hooper earns a tidy little livelihood each summer by covering right field for the Boston Red Sox, of the American Baseball League. The honor of his club and the honor of his league were at stake this afternoon when he came to bat for the last time, in the fifth game of a wonderfully hard-fought series—a game tied fast and hard.

Makes Home Run Hit.

"Colonel" Eppa Jeptha Rixey, of Charlottesville, Va., was hurling for the faltering Phillies and there was one out in the ninth inning when Hooper faced the erratic southpaw. The "Colonel" made the batter look foolish as he broke two fast curves over the plate for called strikes and the home rooters were howling in glee. This noisy approval evidently made Rixey over-confident, for a moment later he grooved one. There was a swish, a crash of hickory against horse-hide and a white streak headed for the center field stands. The ball hit the ground and then bounded into the crowd and Hooper trotted around the paths.

The Phillies still were due a turn at bat, but there was not a soul among the more than 20,000 crowded in the park who did not know that the Boston Sox had won another championship of the world—four games to one. Flustered, but still fighting, the standard bearers of the National League went through the formality of completing the last inning, but not a man got to first.

Phillies Twice in the Lead.

This game was one to stir the blood. It was a battle from the jump, with the issue ever in the balance. Twice it seemed that Philadelphia had a winning margin, but twice the Red Sox hammered their way to equal terms. Piling up three runs in the eighth and ninth innings, they got the decision, 5 to 4.

It was a batting bee in which the Phillies got an early start. Their big war clubs were ringing merrily when the Red Sox took a hand in the affray. From that time forward there was a crashing, clouting chorus that sounded a sweet symphony in the ears of the fans. For the first time in the series the hum of the homer was heard in the land. The Boston hitters got the range of the short field stands in center and sent three balls hurtling there for the circuit. Hooper got two of the home runs and Lewis another for Boston.

Park Proved Phillies' Undoing.

The Philadelphia players who had had their batting sights carefully trained on the stands and close-set fences long before the series began, valiantly tried to meet the invaders at the home run game. Luderus lifted one high over the right field wall in the fourth, but here the heavy firing of the home folks ended and for the last five innings there was never a threat of Philadelphia tallies. The short fences of the little Philly park, confidently looked forward to as a benefit to the home players, proved in the end their undoing. Cravath, home-run monarch of the National League, was expected to break up several games with smashes out of the lot, but he got his long hits in Boston where they were speared for sensational outs and before the home crowds "Gavvy" could only whiff the air when the fans were frantic for a hit. He had an ideal chance today in the first when the bases were full and nobody out, but hit into a double play. His halo was decidedly lopsided at this time, but when he ignominiously fanned twice thereafter it was swept entirely away.

Great Loss and Brilliant Victory.

All through this world's series the Red Sox have been good enough to win. They lost their first meeting with Alexander, but thereafter were not to be denied. When the Philadelphia team fielded brilliantly the Boston players shone with just that greater degree of radiance which narrowly separates the winner from the loser. When the Philadelphia pitching was air-tight, the Boston twirling was just a little tighter. And today, when the long silent bats of the Phillies began a lilting song of biffs and bingles, the Boston bats crashed in more strident tones. Never very far above their rivals in any one of the five games, the men of the American League in the last four starts were always just within the shadowy line of success. It was a hard

MEN OF WEALTH IN NEW HAVEN TRIAL

Eleven Present and Former Officials May Face Jail.

MONOPOLY IS ALLEGED

Government Testing Ability to Convict Directors of Monopolistic Corporation Under Criminal Clause of the Sherman Law.

New York, Oct. 13.—The long pending trial of the directors and former directors of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, which will test the ability of the government to obtain the conviction of the directors of an alleged monopolistic corporation under the so-called criminal clause of the Sherman anti-trust law, was begun here today before Federal Judge Hunt. Three tentative jurors were in the box when the first day's proceedings ended.

The eleven defendants represented wealth running into the hundreds of millions and were men who have not only taken a prominent part in financial affairs, but as pointed out by their counsel, had occupied positions of public trust or had been variously active in the field of education and philanthropy. It was remarked that never in the history of the Federal courts had such a number of notable men been called to trial with the possibility of terms in jail facing them.

The defendants were William Rockefeller, Charles F. Brooker, D. Newton Barney, Robert W. Taft, James S. Hemingway, Lewis Cass Ledyard, Charles M. Pratt, A. Heaton Robertson, Frederick F. Brewster, Henry C. McHarg and Edward D. Robbins.

George McCullough Miller, another defendant, also was cited to appear today but his name was omitted when the clerk called the other defendants. Mr. Miller is 83 years old and the condition of his health was so precarious that counsel for the government consented not to press the case against him. Technically he was granted a severance as were six others of the original 21 defendants.

Rockefeller Attracts Interest.

The appearance of Mr. Rockefeller attracted the greatest interest. He sat near the jury box and closely followed examination of talesmen. Beside him sat Edward D. Robbins, the New Haven's chief counsel. The other defendants sat near their attorneys, of whom there were 17.

Examination of talesmen was conducted for the defendants by Delancey Nicoll, who stressed the high positions held by the defendants and frequently remarked that "nevertheless they have been indicted for conspiracy against the United States."

The attorney also tried to elicit from talesmen an opinion as to whether the growth of large railroad systems through the combination of small roads had not been necessary to the development of the country, but was restrained by the court, on objection of R. L. Batts, of government counsel.

Mr. Nicoll read a list of 175 corporations mentioned in the government's indictment and bill of particulars and

VOTE OF CHAMBER GIVES CONFIDENCE

French Government's War Policy Severely Criticised.

IN TURBULENT SESSION

Announcement Made of the Resignation of DelCasse as Foreign Minister and the Acceptance of Post by M. Viviani.

Paris, Oct. 13.—The government, of which Rene Viviani is the head, received a decisive vote of confidence in the chamber of deputies tonight, 372 to 9, after a long and exciting session, in which the government's war policy, particularly that relating to the Balkans, was severely criticised by leaders representing the important committees of foreign, military and naval affairs.

The debate was signalized at the outset by the announcement by Premier Viviani of the resignation of M. DelCasse as the foreign minister of France, which had been accepted, M. Viviani assuming the portfolio of foreign affairs in addition to the presidency of the council.

The final vote did not disclose the extent of the opposition to the government, as those who led the attack withheld those votes on the ground that the government had not presented a sufficient objection to permit members to vote intelligently. The result was none the less considered a notable tribute to the strength of the ministry at the moment of losing the minister who had shaped policies throughout the war and because of a concerted movement against the entire ministry.

Many Abstain from Voting.

Between 120 and 130 deputies abstained from voting. These included most of the unified socialists. Twenty of them, however, voted for the government. The dissenting nine were made up of four unified socialists and five socialistic radicals.

The session was one of the most turbulent in recent years, the disorder becoming so great while the final vote was being taken that the president left the chamber and the lights were extinguished in order to suppress the violent outbreak of one of the opposing members.

The chief criticism of the opposition was directed against the government's alleged lack of foresight in attempting to avert Bulgaria's understanding with Germany and lack of energy in failing to arrange for an ample landing force at Saloniki to offset the German and Bulgarian move in the Balkans.

In a ringing reply M. Viviani defended the course of the government. He declared that it was obliged not only to consult the parliamentary committees but to maintain the good faith of its position with the allied governments, which did not permit it to lay a complete explanation of all the military policies before parliament. He declared M. DelCasse's resignation was not due to any discord in the ministry as M. DelCasse had always assented to the various steps taken.

Resignation Arouses Comment.

Foreign Minister DelCasse's resignation aroused widespread comment in

CORNERSTONE IS LAID BY PRESIDENT WILSON

Of Memorial Amphitheatre at Arlington Cemetery.

Secretary Daniels Presided and Delivered Address in Which He Declared America Loves Peace, but Loves Liberty More.

Washington, Oct. 13.—President Wilson laid the cornerstone today of the memorial amphitheatre being erected in honor of the Nation's soldier and sailor dead at Arlington National Cemetery. The President made no address but personally spread mortar underneath the stone before it was lowered into place.

Secretary Daniels presided and delivered an address in which he declared America loved peace, but loved liberty even more. President Wilson was greeted with applause by the several hundred veterans of the Civil and Spanish wars and other spectators.

Secretary Daniels said American gratitude dedicated the amphitheatre as a temple to the brave men whose sacrifice preserved forever the union of states.

"It is a substantial symbol, expressive of the national appreciation of valor," he said. "It is a recognition of the grand democracy of the dead. It marks the eternal cementing of the republic, that the home of Lee is the burial place of the glorious company of Grant's invincible army and the equally brave soldiers who fought with Lee."

FIFTY TONS COAL TAR DYES REACH NEW YORK

Shipped From Germany, Consigned to Redfield.

Expected to Revive Cotton Manufacturing Business—Licorice Root Cargoes About to be Released—Pension for Woman.

(Special Star Telegraph.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 13. — Secretary of Commerce Redfield, it was announced today, has succeeded in obtaining fifty tons of coal tar dyes by having the product consigned to him by German shippers. The dyes were expected to arrive in New York today on the steamer St. Louis. Although they belong to the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, they will be received in the name of Secretary Redfield.

When the dyes arrive, they will be distributed among manufacturers whose supplies are exhausted. The arrival of this cargo is expected to revive business in the cotton manufacturing trade. Safe passage for the dyes from Germany was guaranteed by the British government only on condition that the Secretary of Commerce would be the consignee. The embargo, however, still remains on similar cargoes.

The shipment is for the account of William A. Mitchell, of Lowell, Mass., representing the National Association of Cotton Manufactures. In a statement the Commerce Department said:

"Several months ago the Secretary consented to act as consignee of two

CALL FOR CONFERENCE ON PEACE TO BE URGED

President of Peace Congress to Call on Wilson

Several Resolutions Adopted Yesterday, One Expressing Approval of the Policy Maintained by President Wilson.

San Francisco, Oct. 13.—The International Peace Congress adopted a resolution today directing David Starr Jordan, president of the Congress, to go to Washington and urge President Wilson to call a conference of neutral nations to bring about peace. He leaves tomorrow. Another resolution declared the Peace Congress looked with apprehension on the presence of advisory boards of the United States government of manufacturers of war munitions, or of men interested in the sale of supplies to belligerent European nations.

President Wilson's policy also was approved by the congress, a resolution asserting that the congress recognized that to the President is largely due the fact that the republic has remained law abiding, despite currents of fear, hate and excitement. The congress also expressed its opposition to the widespread demand for preparation against hypothetic dangers. The delegates agreed that they did not urge disarmament under present conditions.

Another resolution deplored every attempt to militarize America, stating that the establishment of military training courses in the schools was inconsistent with American ideals and led toward a system of conscription.

"IMPLIED CONTRACTS" WILL BE ACCEPTABLE

For Releasing Austrian and German Made Goods.

Action of British Embassy Paves Way for Success of Large Number of Applications of Importers for Release of Goods.

Washington, October 13. — Favorable action by the British embassy today in two cases involving "implied contracts" paved the way for the success of a large number of the applications filed by American purchasers for release of millions of dollars' worth of German and Austrian made goods held up at neutral European ports by the British orders in council.

Of the thousand or more applications Foreign Trade Adviser Fleming, of the State Department, is handling through the embassy, probably half of them hinge upon the question now decided. the London foreign office agreed to release the goods when it was established "to the satisfaction of the British government" that the American importer had become liable for the purchase price prior to March 1.

At first Sir Richard Crawford, commercial attache of the embassy here, was inclined to insist that all applications be accompanied by proof that the importer actually had entered a formal, expressed contract to pay for the goods ordered. Today's decision, however, indicates that the embassy will recom-series for the Phillies to lose, but a brilliant victory for the Boston Sox.

Supposedly outclassed from the start, with the exception of one star pitcher, the Phillies fought stubbornly and desperately and were not without plenty of chances to win each game they lost. The drive, the "punch", the ultimate smash, was missing, however. It seemed that the tide was about to turn to the Phillies this afternoon when they carried the game to the eighth inning two runs to the good. But the Sox were out for victory and ten stinging hits for a total of 21 bases sounded the death knell of Philly hopes.

Moran Springs Surprise.

Manager "Pat" Moran, of the Phillies, sprang a big surprise on the Sox as well as on the crowd when he announced J. Erskine Mayer, of Atlanta, Ga., as the flinger to make the last stand for the home team. It had been taken for granted that Alexander would be sent to the slab and this belief was strengthened when Big "Alex" began to warm up before the game. Mayer also was under-way. Moran studied the two and then patted Mayer on the back. The wise ones said Moran had decided to take a chance on winning today's game so that he would have Alexander ready tomorrow for a possible tieing up of the series.

At any rate Mayer looked good to Moran, but he looked even better to the Red Sox. They were having a batting holiday at his expense when Moran waved Mayer to the bench in the third. The home players had given Mayer two runs in their half of the first, but the Sox had hammered home a similar number and had gathered six hits off the Georgian. "Colonel" Rixey was called to the mound and the Sox's assault was suddenly stopped. The home team gave the "Colonel" two additional runs in the fourth inning and it seemed that he was destined to be a winner until the visitors took their eighth turn at bat. Gainer, the first man up in this frame, singled over the infield. "Duffy" Lewis, already credited with driving in two of the Red Sox victories, had spent a very uneventful afternoon up to this time. He hadn't caught hold of the ball at all. But on this spectacular occasion he met a fast one squarely on the nose and the crowd groaned as they saw the milk-white sphere sailing far away. The hard driven ball did not hesitate in its flight until it landed, a most unwelcomed visitor, in the very laps of the most loyal rooters in the grounds.

Lewis' Homer Scores Two.

Up to this time thousands of fans gathered for the fifth conflict had been confident of victory. They had been treated to more thrills than all of the other games of the series had offered. There had been all sorts of baseball jammed in the early innings. There had been the rattle and crash of burly bats, sad errors of omission and commission, hit batsmen, base on balls, attempted steals, flashing double plays and all the complicated affairs of the diamond that go down to the records of the immutable box score. A mid-summer sun, misplaced in a blue October sky, gave real baseball warmth to the atmosphere and the bleacherites had early doffered their hats and coats. It was a cruel descent to the depths of despair for them when "Duffy" Lewis, batting mainstay of the Sox throughout the series, sent his homer in the stands and tied the score. This long hit made it possible for Hooper's homer to give the finishing touch to the game and the series.

But the Philly fans were as game as their ball players had been and were as generous as their players had been gentlemanly. They knew the Phillies' star was setting fast, but they cheered Lewis for his batting prowess. They cheered him as a brilliant factor in the triumph of the Sox in all the games they won and they applauded him as one of the men who reflect credit upon the National game. In the fatal ninth when Hooper sent his second homer to the crowd, the rooters who groaned with the sure knowledge of defeat did not deny to the sturdy Californian a similar meed of praise.

Foster's Second Game.

George Foster, of Bokoscho, Okla., won his second game of the series. Foster got a warm reception today from the very start but he stuck grittily to his task and finally withstood the most furious fusillade the Phillies had fired throughout the series. Smashed and hammered in the first and fourth, Foster was always fighting back. He never lost his head, fielded splendidly and was always dangerous at the bat. He gave as game an exhibition of twirling as has ever been seen in any league and there were few partisans in the Philly stands who begrudged him the victory the long delayed home runs of the series threw his way.

"Larry" Gardner, the Sox third baseman, really began the heavy firing of the game when in the second inning he crashed a ball against the center field stands for three bases. The drive missed being a home run by inches only.

The Phillies made nine hits off the diminutive Foster for a total of 13 bases. This hitting was good enough to have won any of the games that went the way of the Sox except the contest today. The Sox since Friday, last always seemed to hold the winning hand.

Was Never Cleaner Series.

No cleaner world's series was ever played. The men of both teams won the hearts of the fans both here and in Boston by their gentlemanly conduct on the field and the sportsmanlike manner in which they went about their work.

One notable feature of the series was the lack of base running. Both Boston and the Philadelphia catchers made the runners look like truck horses nearly every time one started from first to second. Today four Philadelphia players and one member of the Sox were cut down while many feet from the coveted bag. The catching of "Eddie" Burns for the Phillies has been of the highest order throughout the series. An injury to Killifer's throwing arm put upon the "second string" backstop the entire burden of the series, but he proved of sterling worth.

While the closing game of the series abounded in thrilling plays it was a loose contest in which the offensive strength of both teams overshadowed their defensive work. None of the pitchers that figured in the fifth game, Foster included, were able to hold the batters in check in the manner of their predecessors. Broadly speaking, it was a battle between the batters and the outfielders in which the former had a decisive advantage all through the nine innings. There were several sharp plays by the infields and some sterling catches by the outfielders, but much of the hitting was of the savage kind that gave the guardians of the outer trenches little chance to do more than retrieve the ball after the damage had been done.

Batters Had the Ascendency.

Four home runs, one triple and one double is excessive hitting at any time. When such a combination is uncovered in the winning game of a world's series the climax in heavy hitting is reached. The ascendency of the batter over the pitcher in this contest is best illustrated by a comparison of Foster's record in the second and fifth games, both of which were won by the Red Sox. In the first victory for Boston, Foster was reached for but three hits and one run, struck out eight and passed none. Today the same Foster had nine hits and four runs scored off him. Foster, however, gave two passes and fanned but five batters.

Although he lasted through the game it was the cannonading of his teammates which finally won. Foster had great speed at all times, but he lacked the perfect control of ball and delivery which made him almost invincible last Saturday. He appeared to be unable to get the sharper break on the sphere or to cut the corners of the plate with the certainty he showed in his first time out. Foster, however, held the edge on both Mayer and Rixey, especially at critical points in the game.

Mayer and Rixey Ineffective.

Mayer, who opened for the Nationals, had little to baffle the Red Sox batters with and they laced into his wide sweeping curves for six hits in the two and a fraction innings he officiated on the mound. All the Boston swingers crowded the plate and took their time waiting for one they liked. When it came up they hammered it to the infielders or lifted far out over their heads until Manager Moran sent Rixey to his relief. The latter's awkward service appeared to puzzle the Bostoners for a short period, but once they got the angle of his slants he proved no more effective than Mayer.

That the two teams stood up so well in the field under this bombardment of hits demonstrated the earnestness with which the play was fought out. Foster's participation in this defensive work was excellent. In the opening session he figured in a double play that helped to check the most dangerous attack made by the Phillies during the day. With the first three batters to face him safely perched on the bags, Foster knocked down Cravath's sizzling drive and shot it back to the plate for a force out of Stock and Thomas completed the play by snapping the ball to first in time to catch Cravath.

Bancroft also figured in a somewhat similar fielding feat in the third when he scooped up Gainer's hard hit smash, ran over to second for a put-out, unassisted, of Speaker, coming down from first, and completed the double with a quick throw to Luderus. Other plays, not so brilliant, but showing quick thinking and action were frequent but the defense lines of the teams had little chance against the heavy, well-placed hitting, and the two errors charged against the clubs were not deciding factors in the victory and defeat.

Lewis' Batting Also Deadly.

While Hooper was the hero of the game with his two home runs, the second in the ninth inning breaking the tie and winning the championship, Lewis did deadly work with his bat durig the series. In eighteen times at the plate he made eight hits. Foster, with four hits in eight times at the bat, secured a .500 average, while Luderus made seven in 16 trips to the plate. Speaker drove out five hits in 17 chances; Hoblitzell five in 16; Hooper seven in 20, Bancroft five and Gardner four in 17 times at bat and Paskert three in 18. Cravath, the home run king of the National League, made but two hits in 16 times at bat.

Hooper took first place in the run scoring, having four to his credit, two of which were home runs made in today's game. Speaker, Bancroft, Gardner, Cravath and Paskert are all tied for second honors with two runs each. But three stolen bases were gained during the series, Hoblitzell, Whitted and Dugey being the sprinters to negotiate the bags safely.

AGREE THAT BEST TEAM WON.

Carrigan and Moran Declare Series One of Hardest Ever Fought.

Philadelphia, Oct. 13.—Both Manager Carrigan, of the victorious Boston Red Sox, and Pat Moran, leader of the Phillies, declared tonight that the 1915 world's series would go down in baseball history as one of the hardest ever fought for premier honors and both were agreed that the best team won.

"When you are beaten four in a row, there isn't any excuse to offer," said Moran. "Any team that wins four successive games in a world's series must be given credit. We played our best. We gave all we had but we didn't have enough. Our team was the best in the National League and the Sox was the best American League club. And as they beat us they naturally should be regarded as the best ball club in the country."

"It was a hard fought series and the best team won," said Carrigan. "I never saw a series so interesting and so hotly contested. The Phillies deserve a lot of credit. They put up a stiff battle every minute and gave us a fight all the way through. Of course we were favored by some luck. We got several breaks of the game but the results are self-evident. We outplayed the Phillies.

"All my men worked hard for me and I am elated. We encountered masterful pitching from the Moran staff. I wish the Phillies all kinds of luck and hope they win the pennant in their league next season."

WILL MAKE CHANGE IN LINE.

Showing Made by A. & M. Against Roanoke Was Disappointing.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

West Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 13.—The showing of the A. & M. team in the game with Roanoke College last Saturday was a sore disappointment to the coaches as well as the followers of the Tech eleven. The line which showed up the weakest in the game will undergo a change, according to a statement given out by Coach Hegarty, for the game with Wake Forest next Saturday. The change that is looked for is the shifting of MacDougal, the big left end, to left guard. This change would add a lot of strength to the line, as he is a very large man, weighing 180 pounds. Left guard has been the weakest spot in the line and the coach has tried several men at this position, but none of them seem to be able to fill this gap.

Mike Martin, trainer for the Washington American League team, arrived last Friday and will have the squad under his personal attention. He has already gotten out all of the kinks that were received in the Roanoke game and the squad is in the pink of condition.

DEMONSTRATIONS IN BOSTON.

Over News of Red Sox Victory—$70,000 to be Returned to Seat-Holders.

Boston, Oct. 13.—Word that this city had again become the home of the world's baseball champions was greeted with noisy demonstration in front of every bulletin board. The victory of the Red Sox was a popular one, and Lewis and Hooper, heroes of the contest, were especially applauded.

The termination of the series in Philadelphia today will make necessary a return of $70,000 to seat-holders by the management of the Boston club. This sum had been paid in for reservations for a possible third game here.

PRESIDING OFFICER DIES DURING MEETING OF BAPTISTS

Dr. R. M. Johnson Passes Suddenly While M.. Archibald Johnson Speaks

(Special Star Telegram.)

Robersonville, N. C., Oct. 13.—Dr. R. M. Johnson, of Scotland Neck, one of the leading citizens and philanthropists of Eastern Carolina and vice moderator of Roanoke Baptist Association, in session here, died this afternoon, following an attack of acute indigestion.

Dr. Johnson read the report on the Thomasville Orphanage and delivered a brief address. Then taking the chair as moderator, Mr. Archibald Johnson was addressing the association, when Dr. Johnson left the platform and quietly entered a side room of the church. Immediately a request was made for a physician, but none being present an automobile was rushed after one. In ten minutes after leaving the platform, Dr. Johnson was dead. The announcement made to the association was immediately followed by adjournment.

Dr. Johnson was for 20 years the coworker of the late Noah Biggs, of Scotland Neck, and a leading worker in Baptist denominational work.

The remains were taken to Scotland Neck tonight. Dr. Johnson was apparently in perfect health and was happily bantering Mr. Archibald Johnson, a few minutes before his death.

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 13.—The Tennis Association of the University held its first meeting of this year a few days ago. Mr. William Proctor of Raleigh was elected president, and Mr. Ed Keesler, of Charlotte, was elected secretary and treasurer. The association has large membership, with plenty of courts, and there are good prospects of great progress in the game here this year. The varsity tournament began Monday.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 13.—Single G, of the star pacers of the year, won the Cumberland stake, the chief event of the grand circuit races here today, in straight heats and took a new record in the first, going the mile in 2:02 3-4. Queen Abbes landed second money in the event.

FIRST GAMES WERE HARD FOUGHT AT BOYS' BRIGADE

Lions Defeat Leopards, While Wolves Beat Tigers Last Night.

The Wednesday Night League of the Boys' Brigade basketball teams opened their season last night at the armory with two hard fought games. The first game was best, the Lions beating the Leopards by a score of 29 to 17. The second game was good but a bit one-sided. The Wolves won from the Tigers by a score of 39 to 9.

A. Smith and Bell, of the Lions team, were easily the stars of the first game, winning each, five field goals. In the second game, the best individual playing of the evening was done by H. Jewell and A. Jewell, they winning seven and nine goals each. There was a large crowd of spectators out to see the games and gave the boys an auspicious start.

A trophy cup has been offered the winning team in this league by the Alexander, Taylor Company, of New York city, dealers in sporting goods. The teams, now getting their start are putting spirit in the game and the winners of the cup, will have to put up some good work.

ON WESTERN FOOTBALL TEAM

Mr. S. A. Nathan, of This City, Left Guard For Kansas Vets.

It will be of special interest to his many friends in the city to know that Mr. S. A. Nathan, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Nathan, who live at No. 113 South Seventh street, was a star left guard on the football team of the Kansas City Veterinary college, playing last Saturday against the Wentworth Military academy. There was a long article Sunday in the Kansas City Star about the game.

Mr. Nathan left here only a few weeks ago to go out to Kansas for his second year at the Veterinary college. He is a strong left guard and it is little surprise to those who know him here that he is making good as a left guard on the Western team.

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 13.—Sergt. Jacob Lienhard, United States marine corps, won the rapid fire rifle match in the National Rifle Association shoot here today. The match was closely contested. Five riflemen were tied for second place, and it was decided to shoot for second honors tomorrow.

DON'T SUFFER WITH WINTER ECZEMA

This irritating and exasperating malady can be relieved with S. S. S.

Winter Eczema, sometimes called TETTER, is one of the many varieties of the irritatiing and tormenting disease known as Eczema. A deep-seated blood disease that is so often confused as a Skin Disease. Don't think that you can rid yourself of it by washing with medicated soaps or medicated lotions. You will save both your time and money by leaving them alone. Winter Eczema is seemingly dead during the hot months, but with the advent of cold weather it comes to life with renewed vigor. The head, feet and hands are the parts most often attacked, though it sometimes appears on other parts of the body, the skin hardens, cracks open and bleeds, while the itching and burning is at times almost unbearable. Scratching only makes it worse, sores and scabs forming where the skin is broken.

In this form of Eczema brownish white crusts sometimes form which scale off in fine particles, leaving the skin raw and inflamed. It is especially painful and severe when confined to the hands, which often become so badly affected that the sufferer is unable to perform the lightest work. This, like all other types of Eczema, is due to the acid poisons in the blood and not to local causes. The trouble is more than skin deep, and washes, soaps, powders and salves nor anything else applied to the surface cannot possibly do more than soothe the burning and itching or relieve temporarily the inflammation and pain.

It is the acids thrown off by the blood and which are forcing their way through the pores that cause the skin to harden, crack and bleed, and produce the irritation and soreness. S. S. S. neutralizes these acid poisons and cleanses the blood of all irritating substances and humors, and does it promptly and effectually. Beware of imitations—refuse substitutes.

S. S. S. purifies and invigorates the thin acid blood, and builds up the entire system; then the unsightly eruptions heal; the skin becomes smooth and soft, and all signs of the Eczema disappear. Get S. S. S. from your druggist, and write for our special book on skin diseases—free. Write the Swift Specific Company, Medical Department, Room 17, Atlanta, Ga.

THEATRICAL

In these times of war, the natural demand in the recreation field is for something amusing. "It Pays to Advertise," which Cohan and Harris will present at the Academy of Music tonight, fully meets this demand, for it is certainly amusing, and more than that, it is exceedingly funny. While it is a business play, and, therefore, appeals strongly to the men, the plot is also romantic enough to win the enthusiasm of the feminine portion of the audience. The farce is by Roi Cooper Megrue and Walter Hackett, and the authors have certainly brought forth one of the most laughable plays ever presented. Rodney Martin, a rich man's son, who has been the despair of his father because of his disinclination to enter business life, is persuaded through love for his father's pretty stenographer to enter a business campaign, after his father has disinherited him, because of his desire to marry the girl. Advertising is the means used to foist a competing soap upon the market to the detriment of the father's business, who, being a conservative, does not believe in advertising. This forms the skeleton of the play, but it is quite impossible to give any synopsis that will adequately express the humor of the situations during the time the young man and his sweetheart are working out the scheme for getting the better of the old man and bringing about his conversion. He finally learns that it pays to advertise, and incidentally is obliged to buy out the new company at a princely figure. It is one of those plays that cannot be described but must be seen to be appreciated. Prices will range from 50 cents to $1.50. Tickets are on sale at Plummer's.

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG
In "Marrying Money," Royal Today.

National Grand Opera Company.

The engagement of the National Grand Opera Company is to be for a matinee and night performance on Saturday, October 3, with a presentation of "Rigoletto," in the afternoon and "Barber of Seveille" in the evening. Following is a list of the cast of principals and conductors: Edvige Vaccari, colorature soprano; Cecelia Zavaschi, colorature soprano; Marian Brooks, contralto; Alice Haesler, mezzo-soprano; Helen Austin, mezzo-soprano; Louise Berg, soprano; Franco de Gregorio, tenor; Alberto Amadi, tenor; Roberto Anselmi, tenor; Giuseppe La Puma, baritone; Michele Rossini, baritone; Ernesto de Giacomo, baritone; Giuseppe Anselone, basso, and Chevalier Giuseppe Angelini, conductor, and Giovanni Leotti, conductor.

Of the principal artists only a few of them have been heard in this country, outside of New York, and all of them make their debuts during the coming week.

Romance of Elaine Today.

Lionel Barrymore, playing the role of Marcus Del Mar, the foreign agent, does some of the best acting of his career in the 32nd great episode of "The Romance of Elaine," heading today's bill at the Bijou. The chapter is replete with thrills throughout, and there are seven different narrow escapes from death by the various leading stars in the cast. Elaine has two dastardly attempts made on her life, and miraculously escapes from both. Del Mar almost falls victim to his own dastardly scheme to put Elaine out of the way. There is a thrill to every inch, and if you miss today's chapter you will not understand the remainder of the serial which will come to a glorious end with four more chapters after today.

Another great feature today is a big Bison two-reel dramatic feature, "A Message for Help," featuring the beautiful Edythe Sterling, with big Sherman Bainbridge, in the two leading roles. "A Message for Help" is a great drama of the west, full of exciting situations and unexpected denouements, and shows Sherman Bainbridge at his very best.

Did ye ever see a fish playing the leading role in a picture? Ywanta see "Avenged by a Fish," a great L-Ko comedy roar, in which the fish, the leading character, is ably assisted by Hank Mann and Henry Bergman, in the most unusual and hair-raising comedy of the year.

Then there's a great Joker Comedy scream, "He Wouldn't Support His Wife," featuring Max Asher and Gail Henry. Don't miss today's great six-reel all-feature bill at Wilmington's most popular movie.

Clara Kimball Young—Royal.

Today is absolutely the biggest day at the Royal yet. For it marks the presentation of a feature with one of the biggest stars in all picturedom, presenting Clara Kimball Young, the darling of a million fans, in the great five-reel spectacular drama, "Marrying Money," a World Film Corporation feature, which has been the most widely discussed play of the season.

Clara Kimball Young has not been seen in Wilmington since she entered the feature field some 12 months ago. She was formerly a bright star on a regular program company, but became such a favorite that the feature people grabbed her. "Marrying Money" is her very biggest release to date, an enthralling five-act drama, with more than 200 elaborate scenes, in which Miss Young is supported by an all-star cast. Clara Kimball Young and company are now in Western North Carolina where they are filming "In the Heart of the Blue Ridge," a forthcoming feature.

Also today there will be presented the opening chapter of that great patriotic drama, "Neal of the Navy," starring beautiful Lillian Lorraine, with William Courtleigh, Jr. Old Glory—Young Romance—the U. S. Navy; A Lost Island; A Silver Mine; Plenty of intrigue and a love that surmounts all things, are the essentials in this ripping advanture serial, written by William Hamilton Osborne. It has been approved by Hon. Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, and contains hundreds of great naval scenes. Don't miss the first episode today, of the latest and best serial of the year, together with another great feature—"Marrying Money."

"East Lynne Again Tonight.

The Harme Associate Players last night gave an excellent production of "East Lynne." The play is a dramatization of the famous book of the same name. The cast pleased and were exceptionally good. Margaret Ragan again pleased for her delightful manner in which she portrayed the role of "Lady Isabel." Clyde Armstrong was good as "Sir Francis Levison"; Percy Kildbride made a fine "Richard Hare," James Lightfoot pleased as "John Dill," while Miss Alma Aiken gave a fine performance of "Cornelia Carlyle."

"East Lynne" will be the offering again tonight, and those who want to see a fine scenic production of this well known and old time favorite should surely take advantage of the opportunity tonight.

For Friday night and Saturday matinee and night a mammoth scenic production of "Jesse James, the Missouri Outlaw", will be the offering. This famous character is known to every man, woman and child of the United States and it is safe to predict a full house for the last two days of the week.

There is lots of good comedy in this old-time play. There are several hangers-on of the famous bandit who furnish merriment galore and hardly a minute passes during the action of the play that the comedy is not running riot.

"Jesse James, the Missouri Outlaw," was a good man at heart, and the frontiersmen of the days of the James boys, used to say that they never harmed any man who attended to his own business. "Jesse James, the Missouri Outlaw" has not been offered in Wilmington in many years and it will be new to the younger theatre-going set.

Grand Today.

The Biograph company presents Miss Vera Sisson, the noted screen star, in at two-reel feature, "The Rehearsal." The story of this picture is a pleasing one, it treats of a love affair of a young playwright who had an artist sweetheart. Because a play which he had written is at first rejected by the producers, she throwns him down. Later, he falls in love with the daughter of an actress whom he has befriended and placed in his mother's care. She discovers the flaws in his work, and helps him to win success. Miss Sisson is at her best in this two-reel feature, she has only been with the Biograph company a short while. Prior to her present engagement she was a valuable star of the Universal company. Her many friends will expect big things now that she will get the proper training through the best producers in the film game.

"A Girl's Grit" is the title of a one-reel Kalem, featuring Helen Holmes, the dare-devil of the screen. See her climb out of the top window of the railroad station, and leap aboard the train on which the crooks are making their escape.

"The Broken Wrist," a one-reel drama, involves two doctors and a nurse, and the big situation is brought about by the help of a skeleton. The story is original and grim. Charles Perley, Herbert Barrington and Augusta Anderson are in the cast.

Southport, N. C., Oct. 13.—The county commissioners, in session this week, received and accepted the resignation of Dr. W. R. Coley, county coroner. Hearings on a number of county roads resulted in more public highways. Chairman Knox, of the board, made report of the meeting with the county commissioners of New Hanover on the matter of the free ferry across the Cape Fear at Wilmington. Awaiting further report on this, action was deferred until the next meeting.

There was quite a discussion before the board on the issue as to the $15,000 bonds for roads for North West townships. The board ordered that the bonds be issued. It is expected that opposition will get out an injunction as to their issuance. The objections seem to be technical rather than opposed to better roads.

Education Board Meets.

The county board of education met this week, the first meeting since July, this being due to the illness of Superintendent Guthrie, who was unable to attend during this period. The business of the sessions was largely routine. Several resignations of school committeemen had to be filled. Five hundred dollars was paid on the new school building at Shallotte. Moonlight schools will be started up in the school districts in the country in November. No estimate as to the number who may attend can be made.

The Dosher and St. George factory is handicapped in the matter of getting "pickers" for the shrimp caught. The catch is now good, quality fine, and a demand for the entire output of the factory. It is in getting labor for the "picking" that causes this industry to slow up. The pay is good. "Pickers" can make up to two dollars per day, or less according to ability, and this should be a big inducement, for it is cash to the workers every day.

True Bill Against Fishermen.

The criminal docket of the Superior court, presided over by Judge F. A. Daniels, now in session, is about finished as to trial of cases for this term. No cases of criminal importance have come up. A true bill was found against the mullet fishermen, who, it is claimed, made their catch inside the three mile limit. A hearing in their case is looked for this week.

At five o'clock this morning, Mr. F. D. Price died at his home, near this city, aged 71 years. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. David Swain, and two sons, W. A. and Dermy Price. The funeral will take place at the family home tomorrow, and interment will be in the family burial grounds. Mr. Price was a successful farmer. He was a Confederate veteran.

MAYOR BELL AND OTHERS ARE HELD NOT GUILTY BY THE JURY

Crowd Applauds Verdict in Indianapolis Election Frauds Case.

Indianapolis, Oct. 13.—Applause from the crowd that packed the court room greeted the verdict of not guilty returned today here in the case of Mayor Joseph E. Bell, who with Thomas Taggart, Democratic National Committeeman, and many others, was indicted on a charge of election conspiracy. The trial had lasted five weeks.

Prosecutor A. J. Rucker said after the acquittal that he had no statement to make in regard to the disposition of the cases of the more than 100 others indicted with the mayor. "The verdict was what I expected at all times during the trial," was all Mr. Taggart said he cared to say at this time.

"Just what every decent man in Marion county expected," was the statement of Mayor Bell.

ALL RECORDS ARE BROKEN

Cotton Seed Oil Sales on New York Market Yesterday 56,700 Barrels.

New York, October 13.—All records were broken when 56,700 barrels of cotton seed oil changed hands in the local market on the produce exchange today. Commission houses and shorts were heavy buyers early on fair crop news and prices shot up 40 points. This attracted heavy offerings of crude from the South which destroyed about half of the advance after midday.

HOW MUCH IS ADEQUATE PREPAREDNESS?

Secretary Daniels' idea of naval preparedness is the building of enough big ships and small ones of different classes to practically double the strength of the present navy in five years—at least in the efficiency of its equipment and units. The tentative plan is for 15 to 20 warships of the dreadnaught class and battle cruisers, supplemented by a hundred seagoing and seacoast submarines, and a proportionate number of destroyers, scout cruisers, dispatch boats, etc. The Star's Washington news by the Associated Press yesterday stated that President Wilson and Secretary Daniels were practically agreed on what is to constitute our naval preparedness.

The Star's Washington correspondent, however, stated that the President would widely differ with Secretary of War Garrison as to any great increase of the army, and that he also would go slow on Secretary Daniels' naval estimates. Secretary Garrison wants to increase the standing army from 88,000 to 154,000 men. The Secretary favors ten regiments of infantry and an increase of the cavalry and coast artillery. President Wilson is said to favor a considerable increase in the artillery service, both in men and big guns, but is not committed to any great increase of the army.

All this is only interesting as showing that the naval and military efficiency of this country is going to receive attention. On the final estimates it will be found that the President and his Naval and War secretaries will be fully agreed, and that it is Congress that will thresh out the matter. President Wilson already has committed himself to "adequate preparedness," which means a plenty and then some if it requires it to come up to the comprehensive meaning of adequate.

The President as well as the American people are opposed to militarism per se, but not to the reasonable preparedness that is wise for a country of this size and standing as a nation. We may as well consider the certainty that during the next ten years the world will be deluged with militarism and navalism. Why? Dig down for your answer. Anti-militarism in the United States at this time would be one part fatalism and nine parts hypocricy. The American republic has to commit itself to militarism and navalism because it has to do it. Sentiment and dread of taxes causes us to abhor militarism and navalism, but wisdom dictates the necessity of both, and that is what "preparedness" means, in its final analysis.

This nation will be for "adequate preparedness" — President Wilson's idea. How adequate will our preparedness be? Why, it has no limitations Adequate is a good word for it, because it can be stretched out to cover every necessity. A navy or an army twice as large may be adequate under the circumstances, but several times larger if different circumstances and necessities compel us to be adequately prepared. What is adequate today may not be adequate tomorrow, so we see that the President, if he has used the adjective in its real meaning, has not limited himself to the amount of "preparedness" which this nation may find necessarily adequate beyond what we consider adequate right now. "Adequate" compasses little or much—just whatever the circumstances call for.

WESTERN CIVILIZATION INDICTED.

The International Peace Congress at San Francisco on Tuesday listened to an indictment of Western civilization by Count Okuma, the Japanese premier, and Dr. Ng Poon Chew, a Chinese editor of San Francisco. A message sent by Count Okuma from Japan coincides with Dr. Chew's declaration that "world peace is yet a fantasy and will be until the militaristic order of things is changed."

Count Okuma, in his message, declared that there would be no peace "so long as there exist nations or individuals who believe or exalt themselves as absolutely superior to others, and, to assert that superiority, do not hesitate to appeal to material forces." No one can have any reasonable doubt as to the truth so bluntly stated. On the floor of the congress Dr. Chew, the Chinese editor, added this to what was said by the Japanese premier:

"There will be wars and more wars just so long as there are two codes of laws and two standards of morality, one governing nations, the other individuals. If the United States were as unprepared it would fare no better than China at the hands of the world powers," he said. "China has learned the bitter lesson and now is proceeding to abandon its concept that justice is the foundation of the state and to take up the practice of brute force. Japan is the disturber of the peace in the Orient. She is essentially a military nation and she has in herself the perfect compilation of the militarism of Germany and the navyism of England. Her ambition is boundless. With such neighbors, what must China do but prepare for defense? Before the European war broke out we imported a large number of men, the followers of the Prince of Peace, from Europe, the seat of Christendom, over to 'Heathen China,' if you are pleased to call us so, to instruct us to turn our plough shares into swords and our spears into pruning forks."

Dr. Chew spoke the truth, when he declared that in view of the fact that other nations are prepared for war, it will compel China to abandon her peace ideals and also to prepare. He blamed Western militarism, after which Japan copied and which Japan is using in order to "parcel China" and destroy her centuries of peace principles. He called Japan the disturber of the peace of the Orient, and logically the Western militarism and navalism which put Japan up to it is responsible for wars among the nations of the earth.

There will be no world peace so long as any nation sets up dominancy over any or all and compels them to dispute and resent such dominancy by force. In her policy of "preparedness," America is not adopting a militaristic career but is compelled in self defense to protect herself against nations which maintain piratical policies on land and sea and spend vast sums to assert their dominancy over any or all nations and even deny rivalry in their respective usurpations of world privileges and rights.

FOR BOOSTING NORTH CAROLINA.

The presence in Wilmington of Mr. Bion H. Butler indicates that the North Carolina State Bureau of Publicity is on the stir. Mr. Butler, who is an able and experienced newspaper man, is its field secretary, and he is doing a lot of scouting as a preliminary to the organized campaign to be set on foot as soon as the bureau is sufficiently financed to formulate its plans. Since North Carolina can't get something for nothing, it stands to reason that she cannot get such a good thing as a State Bureau of Publicity without paying for it in the way of providing for its necessary expenses.

The present idea of the temporary organization is to raise $5,000 to get the work started, and Mr. Butler has been visiting various portions of the State for the purpose of enlisting the interest of 100 leading boosters to subscribe $50 each to that fund. It is a small amount—far too small for practical work for such a big State—and there should not be the slightest difficulty in raising such a sum.

We take it that the $5,000 to be so raised is only to get the bureau established so it can go ahead and arrange its broad plans for advertising the resources, potentialities, advantages and opportunities so abounding in every portion of the State. There has first to be a study of these resources and then will come a comprehensive plan in which the whole State must co-operate to secure results.

Mr. Butler is a capital man for this work, and we have no doubt he will find Wilmington cordially in sympathy with an undertaking of such immense scope and possibilities. What is needed, however, is money, right now, and plenty of co-operation after the work gets started. It is a good thing to have Mr. Butler looking around, for he makes a survey as he goes and fires a broadside that makes people sit up and take notice.

WHILE LOVE LASTS

There is a cult which favors a system of marriage embracing a contract binding a couple to live together only "while love lasts" instead of a life vow to "live together till death do us part," or words to that effect. Marirage would lose its sanctity and binding force under any marriage arrangement that would provide for only a temporary union at best. The Savannah News does not fancy it, and so says:

"A 'strictly socialistic marriage,' so-called, is about to be performed in New York as a ceremony of the Church of Social Revolution, apparently the latest of creeds. Its keynote is "while love lasts" and it is explained to be like sending a man to prison with a key, on the theory that he won't want to get out if he can. That may be fine when the marriage is a failure and there are no children, but what is to be done with the little folks when their silly, or selfish, or bad parents think they are in love with each other no longer?"

All of that is true, but are marriage vows today any more sacred than the socialistic contract would make it? At present while love lasts the marriage lasts, but when love has gone along comes a divorce. That is about the same as being married so long as both parties in marriage agree that they love each other. The socialistic marriage is a little more shocking than the other, but it isn't a bit more scandalous than many divorces among the most prominent people in America.

The average man has had to observe retrenchment in expenses to such an extent that it seems as if he knows what trench warfare is himself.

The difference between violating the neutrality of Belgium and Greece is that Greece neglected to have hers guaranteed. Greece was careless with herself, like China who thought her neutrality and integrity were guaranteed till Japan took a notion not to care two straws whether it was or not.

CAPT. HAYWOOD CLARK'S CANDIDACY.

To the Editor of The Star:

I am glad to learn that Capt. Haywood Clark, of Wilmington, is a candidate for Secretary of State. No man in Eastern Carolina has more loyal friends, and if all of them will enter this contest in his behalf they can make his election sure. Most every man residing in those counties north of Wilmington to the Virginia line knows him personally and they have all received kindness at his hands. Those little deeds may have seemed small at the time they were shown, but they will loom up larger now, and on the primary day Eastern Carolina will give him a large vote for this high office.

His Democracy cannot be questioned. His faithfulness to every trust cannot be denied. His ability to fill the office is known to all. Those three qualities will be demanded of any one entering the race. The old Cape Fear section should have representation on the State ticket, anyway. It does a large per cent. of the voting on election days, but the other section of the State have been receiving the offices in the past. It high time to turn the old cow around for awhile.

Captain Clark will make a splendid race in the coming campaign, and his friends should rally to him now. There is no need of telling them who he is, where he has been nor where he is from. The rank and file of the Democratic voters know him well. The mountain section, the piedmont section and the eastern section are asked to vote for him with a big majority on primary day. If he is nominated he will certainly be elected and he will fill the office with entire satisfaction.

CURRENT COMMENT.

"Be of a good heart," sings the Wilmington Star, "you might as well be an optimist as to be a pessimist, for being a pessimist has never helped anybody yet." Still, too much optimism is one of the most frequent causes of pessimism.—Raleigh Times.

The county commissioners at their meeting Monday passed a resolution entering a solemn protest against the action of the State Tax Commission in raising the tax valuation of real estate in Robeson 10 per cent and declare that they believe this action will work a serious injustice to the taxpayers of the county. The Robesonian believes the commissioners voice the sentiments of the entire citizenship of the county. The name of the folks in Robeson who feel like throwing bouquets at the State Tax Commission is certainly not legion.—Lumberton Robesonian.

Sanford Express: "A young lady of Wake county sued several prominent men for slander and a few days ago a Wake county jury decided she was entitled to $7,500 damages. The defamers of the girl's character, it is said, made no effort to justify the words which were declared to be slander but denied using them. They testified to the high character of the girl and knew nothing of any charges against her good name. The jury believed her testimony, however, and decided in the sum mentioned. The Raleigh correspondent of the Greensboro News says 'there are several others who are defendants in actions of this character. It has been before the courts once, went up and came back upon error. The outcome has been a delight to many Raleigh people who were pleased to see a girl with the nerve to stake her character before a jury and to call her alleged defamers to the strictest book.' If innocent young women in some other towns we know would take the same course to protect themselves, young men who have been careless with their tongues would be more careful." In the good old days, or the bad old days, as you like, no man ever slandered an innocent woman unless she happened to be without male relatives and friends who were punctilious on points of honor. It meant a challenge, and a fight, formal or informal; and it might mean death. Men didn't talk about women, and women did not talk about other women—unless they wished to get their own menfolk into trouble. The code duello was barbarous and as often as not a code of injustice—but it served occasionally as a fine deterrent of malicious gossip.—Greensboro News.

WAS KILLED BY A NEGRO

Mr. Charley Rackley, of Garland, N. C., Shot to Death in Georgia.

(Augusta, Ga., Chronicle).

Crawfordville, Ga., Oct. 11.—Saturday evening, at the sawmill of Mr. Winsley, located about seven miles south of Crawfordville, Mr. Charley Rackley, a young man about 30 years old, was shot and killed by a young negro named Jake Turner. With Turner at the time there were Sam Hartley, and Guy Young, both colored. News of the shooting soon reached Crawfordville, and Sheriff Edwards and his posse landed all the parties implicated in the shooting in jail Sunday morning. Turner has been taken to some other place by the officials for safe keeping.

As can be best learned at this time, there had been a little trouble between one or two other of the young men working at the sawmill, and a negro boy named Evans, who was not present when the shooting took place, and the negroes doing the shooting had taken up the difficulty and went to the mill for the purpose of killing those who had the words with the Evans boy, when Rackley was first seen by them and shot. It is understood that Rackley was not one of the parties who had been engaged in the trouble earlier in the evening.

Mr. Rackley was an unmarried man from Garland, N. C., and his body will be taken to that place for interment.

HYDE APPARENTLY HAS 19 MAJORITY OVER MAYOR GRACE

Over 6,000 Votes Cast in Charleston Election—Militia Withdrawn.

Charleston, S. C., Oct. 13.—Tensity of the bitter factional fight in the Democratic municipal primaries yesterday which caused Governor Manning to hold ready in their armory four companies of militia and three divisions of naval militia was reflected today in the count of votes in the mayoralty race. Out of more than 6,000 votes cast Tristam T. Hyde had an apparent majority of 19 over Mayor John P. Grace. More than 100 votes have been contested ,however, and it will take the official count to determine who won. Nomination is equivalent to election.

The state guardsmen were released early tonight. No unusual disorder occurred yesterday or last night.

ROLLER SKATING WILL BE MUCH RESTRICTED

Many Citizens Before Council to Make Complaints.

Permission Given Tidewater Power Company to Install Improved Street Lights—Regular Weekly Session Yesterday.

Roller skating on the sidewalks in Wilmington was the subject of much discussion before City Council at the regular weekly meeting yesterday morning, there being a large delegation of citizens on hand to protest vigorously against the action taken a week ago when the children were given the privilege of using the walks outside of the business district. An amended ordinance will be adopted by Council at its next meeting and in the meantime the matter was left in the hands of Councilman J. M. Hall, in charge of the department of public safety.

After consulting with Chief of Police Williams yesterday afternoon, Councilman Hall announced that henceforth all skating on the sidewalks must be stopped at 7 P. M. and no skating will be allowed in front of a business house or for several feet on either side. Skating will not be allowed in the block where there is sickness nor will any skating be allowed in front of any church.

Permission was given the Tidewater Power Company to install ten 1,000-candle power lights, four on Front street and six on Princess, in the vicinity of Front and Princess, of the type of the lights recently placed on Castle street, between Front and Surry, in order that the people of the city may have an opportunity to observe the great improvement that will be effected. Mr. Raymond Hunt, superintendent of the electrical department of the Tidewater Company, was before Council to ask that this company be allowed to take down three arches of lights and substitute in their place the improved lights. He explained that the city would be getting 10,000 candle power in the place of 3,000 candle power at no additional cost. The new lights will be installed within the next six weeks, he stated.

At the suggestion of Recorder Empie, who showed the urgent need of such a practice, Council authorized that all new ordinances shall be printed once a week for four weeks after adoption in both of the city papers and also that copies of all ordinances be posted on a bulletin board at the city hall for the convenience of the public.

Mayor Moore presided at the meeting and all members of Council were present except Councilman Merritt.

Complaints and grievances was the first thing called for by Mayor Moore and this brought forth plenty of protests under both heads. Mr. Eduard Ahrens was the first to be heard. He called attention to the fact that the sidewalk on the north side of Market street, between Sixth and Seventh was being greatly damaged. His mother has not been in good health, he stated, and the roller skating has proven to be a great annoyance to her. Not only had the sidewalks been used in a way as to make it very objectionable but he had had trouble in keeping skaters off the driveway leading to his garage. He suggested that skating be restricted to Third street, between Market and Dock, and between Princess and Chestnut and that the hours also be restricted. "If you will suggest some means of relief, I would appreciate it," he said.

Councilman McCaig, who originally championed the cause of roller skating on the sidewalks, told Mr. Ahrens that he had talked over the matter with several members of Council and that they had decided to amend the ordinance so as to restrict skating, but because of the absence of City Attorney Ruark, thought it best to wait until the next meeting to adopt it.

As to the wearing out of the walks by skaters, he had observed that the sidewalk in front of his house had been used freely for the last five years and he had been unable to find after a close examination that it had been damaged to any material extent. Since the city did not have any playgrounds, he thought that the children should be allowed some place for skating.

As to the matter of skating on private property, he stated that could be easily remedied and Council certainly had never authorized children or anyone else to skate on private land or drives. Mr. Ahrens said that he had not intended to convey the impression that Council had given the children the right to use private property, but that in giving them the right to use the sidewalks, the children had abused the privileges given them.

L. Clayton Grant, Esq., came in about this time and begged Council to give him a few minutes to enter a vigorous protest on the part of a number of citizens living in the vicinity of Ninth and Market streets. He mentioned particularly Mr. Munds, the druggist, who had been greatly annoyed by the skaters. Many negroes are using the walks, he said, and at night grown negro men skate on the sidewalks until late at night and many had found it impossible to sleep until after midnight. He mentioned an instance of where a white woman had been forced to use the street in order to avoid being run over by a negro youth and another instance of a white man who had knocked down a negro. He urged Council to do something.

"The proper thing to do is to provide a place for the children to skate," he declared. "I don't think that because we do not have a place for them to skate that we should endanger the lives of pedestrians."

As to the suggestions of Councilman McCaig that children skating on private property should be arrested, he called attention to the ruling by the Supreme Court that a child under 14 years of age cannot be convicted of a misdemeanor.

The discussion was at a rather animated stage when someone called Mayor Moore over the phone to protest against skating in front of his home. The man evidently was very much disturbed over the situation as his voice could be heard plainly all over the room.

Mr. T. F. Wood complained of the skating at Second and Chestnut streets, where his mother lives, and on Third street between Church and Castle. He described the noise in the evening as being hideous and declared that unless something was done he proposed to obstruct the sidewalk in front of his home in order that he might have some rest.

"I'd like to verify all that Mr. Wood has said," declared Mr. C. B. Bellois,

National Mosaic Flooring Co. Selects This City Through Influence of Chamber of Commerce.

The National Mosaic Flooring Co., with general offices in New York and works at Mobile, Ala., notified the Chamber of Commerce yesterday that they had selected Wilmington as a distributing center for their products.

In a letter to the Chamber, Mr. William F. Tebbetts, president of the company, wrote as follows:

"The business possibilities of Wilmington as outlined by your Chamber of Commerce to us, combined with the results of our investigations, has induced the sales company to select Wilmington as a distributing center for our products."

A representative of the Mosaic company will be in Wilmington at an early date to complete arrangements for the establishment of offices and shipping facilities. The recognition given Wilmington by a concern of this kind is another evidence of the splendid advantages this port offers as a distributing center.

This company has an advertisement in today's paper, explanatory of their business, which is the forerunner of an advertising campaign for the introduction and sale of their products in Wilmington and adjacent territory.

FUNERAL OF REV. F. D. deROSSET HELD YESTERDAY.

Remains Arrived in Wilmington Last Night—Services from St. James.

Following funeral services conducted from the Church of the Holy Communion in Charleston yesterday afternoon, the remains of Rev. Frederick Ancrum deRosset, whose death occurred in that city Monday morning, were brought to Wilmington, arriving here last night. The body was taken directly to St. James' Episcopal church and after a short service this morning at 11 o'clock, interment will be made in Oakdale cemetery. Bishop William A. Guerry, a lifelong friend of Rev. Mr. deRosset, conducted the funeral services in Charleston yesterday.

Bishop Guerry in yesterday's Charleston News and Courier pays a fitting tribute of respect to his devoted friend. It is in part as follows:

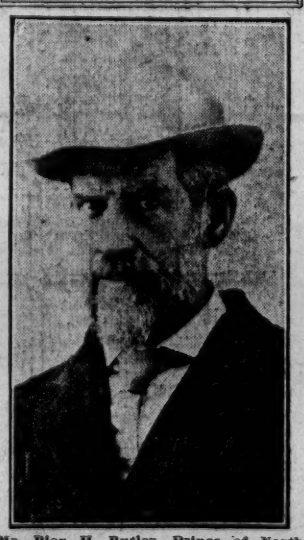
"Frederick Ancrum deRosset, was born in Wilmington, N. C., in 1856. He graduated at Sewanee, Tenn., University of the South, with the degree of master of arts, in 1879. He received his theological education at the General Theological Seminary in New York, from which institution he graduated in 1882. In the same year he married Miss Mary William Green, a granddaughter of Bishop Green, of Mississippi. He was ordained deacon in 1880 and priest in 1882.

"He began his ministry as a curate in New York City. Afterwards he was rector of Trinity Church, Natchez, Miss., and later of the Church of the Redeemer, Cairo, Ill. At one time he was archdeacon of Springfield, Ill., and rector of the Pro-Cathedral there, from which position he was recalled to his old parish at Cairo. He came to us in February, 1913. He was several times elected a delegate to the General Convention and later became the organizing secretary of the Jerusalem and East Mission,' in which he was deeply interested. Since his coming to this diocese I had appointed him examining chaplain in Hebrew, of which he was at one time an instructor at Sewanee. This all too brief statement of his services to the Church will give those who do not know him well some idea of his wonderful versatility and of the largeness and scope of his ministry. Mr. deRosset was a musician of no mean ability—a student and a man of scholarly attainments. I never knew a more devoted pastor or one that believed more in the power and efficiency of prayer. He was a man without guilt and believed the best of everyone with whom he came in contact. He was one of the most charitable, lovable, gentle and affectionate men I have ever known. A man of strong convictions, but without intolerance and without enmity. A high churchman, who loved a beautiful and reverent ritual, but without narrowness, and always loyal to the Prayer Book and to his Bishop. In the few short years he was here he made a host of friends, both within and without his parish, and endeared himself to everyone that knew him.

"His death following so soon upon that of Dr. Whaley is a great and crushing blow to his Bishop and to the church in this diocese. I am like a man appointed to lead in a great cause for God and His Church suddenly bereft of one of His ablest and most devoted lieutenants—and yet I feel that there must be no note of vain regret at such a time.

"Frederick deRosset has passed to his great reward. God has called him to some higher ministry of faith and of service, and it would be but a poor tribute to his beautiful and unselfish life if we spent our time here in empty repinings. On the contrary, his life and example are like a bugle call to close up the ranks—to pray more earnestly—to work harder and to press forward with renewed faith and zeal in the Master's service."

HE IS TO BE HEARD IN THIS CITY TODAY



Mr. Bion H. Butler, Prince of North Carolina Boosters and Field Secretary of the State Publicity Bureau, Who is in Wilmington and Will Address the Chamber of Commerce This Afternoon at 4 O'clock.

FIFTY MILLION FEET OF YELLOW PINE ORDERED

Italian Government Places Biggest Order on Record

Lumber from the South Will be Used in Trench Warfare Now Going on Between the Belligerent Nations of Europe.

What is said to be the largest single order for lumber ever placed in the United States has just been made public and it reaches the stupendous figures of 50,500,000 feet. It would require a string of flat cars reaching from Wilmington to Richmond, Va., to handle this one order or a fleet of 100 vessels carrying 500,000 feet each. On this subject the Southern Lumber Journal, of Wilmington, in its issue today will say:

"Through Mr. J. L. Phillips, of New York City and the Southern Pine Company, of Georgia, the biggest lumber order ever given and filled in the United States has just been made public, whereby the Italian Government has placed an order for 29,000,000 feet of boards and 15,500,000 feet of timbers, ranging in sizes from 2x4 to 12x12 and 6,500,000 feet of cross ties. In point of volume and size this order surpasses anything on record. It has now leaked out that this order may be increased to 80,000,000 feet.

"When New York City placed contracts for 30,000,000 feet of lumber and timber some months ago that was at that time regarded as the record for contract sizes, but the Italian Government order eclipses that by 20,000,000 feet, and this will likely be increased an additional 30,000,000 feet. The boards embrace everything from 1x6 to 1x12 inches in width, random lengths, and together with the timbers will be used for trench warfare purposes in the conflict now going on between the belligerent nations across the waters. The size of this order, in conjunction with the various and sundry other orders now on file and being placed daily has given the yellow pine industry a tremendous boost from the Georgia and Florida coast all the way around to Texas, and cleans up all available stocks of this character, so that anything else in this line will have to be cut and dried before it is shipped, regardless of the urgency of the demands.

"It is freely conceded that this order, with its possibilities of being increased, will be worth at least one dollar a thousand to the yellow pine dimension and board market in the South Atlantic and Gulf Coast states. But little of this tremendous order was placed in either Georgia or Florida, for the reason that the mills in all this territory were loaded up on this character of business, hence the bulk of the order had to go to the Southwest, where much of the lumber is cut and piled on sticks ready for shipment. The inspection is reported as easy and in fact square edge and sound has been the principal standard for grading this material. Mr. Stillwell, of the Southern Pine Co., states that practically the entire order has been placed, barring possibly five or six million feet, and that will no doubt be taken on before the close of the current week.

"Much of this enormous volume of lumber is being assembled just now at several of the ports where ships will be in waiting to receive it for hurried transportation to the Italian government. Mills west of the Mississippi, as well as those east, have taken a great deal of this order and there is much rejoicing all over the yellow pine states of Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, Missouri and Oklahoma over the announcement just made. In the meantime, Great Britain is buying more or less freely and the same is true of the South American republics, as well as Cuba. The biggest thing in this whole transaction is to be found in the fact that this order, in conjunction with other business already placed, relieves the Southern states of all surplus stocks of lumber in pile."

ONE CASE FINISHED.

Rose Joy, colored, was the only defendant whose case was disposed of at the Recorder's court yesterday. Rose was taxed with the costs on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Andrew Johnson, white, will have a hearing Saturday on a charge of reckless driving. Tomorrow will be a big day with the court as about a score of driving ordinance violators will have hearings.

Mr. Bion H. Butler Will Make Address at Monthly Meeting This Afternoon—Other Matters.

The regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock and a full attendance of all the members is desired as a number of important matters are to receive attention. Mr. Bion H. Butler, field secretary of the North Carolina Bureau of Publicity, will make an address outlining the work that this organization is planning to undertake.

Mr. Butler was given an opportunity to go over the county yesterday. He was accompanied on an automobile trip by Mr. W. D. MacMillan, Jr. Mr. Butler is a close observer and he was much pleased with the splendid system of good roads. HANSON TRAINING HARD FOR MATCH WITH KAISER.

Believes He Will Win With Strangle and Toe Hold Barred.

What is going to be probably the most interesting wrestling match presented on the local mat in some time will be seen in Woolvin Hall tomorrow night. There were many ladies out to see the last match and it is announced that they will be admitted free, if with an escort, for this match.

Kaiser is the only man who has taken a match from Hanson in Wilmington, and the strangle and toe hold with which he won it being barred will make the match tomorrow more interesting than even the Mainfort match. Hanson says he believes he will beat Kaiser since these unscientific holds are barred. It is known that Kaiser is a man worthy of an able opponent. He carried away a victory last week, but says he didn't get it as fair as he would like to and asks for another chance. Hanson feels himself put on his metal since his "Nemesis holds" are not in the way, he says, and he will have no excuse. He fairly won the first fall from Kaiser and believes he can get two such falls tomorrow night.

It is going to be a more even match. Kaiser's match last night at Norfolk with Mainfort will help keep him in form, and not finding men at the Y. M. C. A. able to give him sufficient exercise, Mr. Hanson went to the country yesterday for road work, and had a long tussle with a bovine at the Echo Dairy farm. This is excellent exercise for a real wrestler, and Hanson is rounding into fine form.

Hanson weighed 155 yesterday and expects to make the ring tomorrow night at about 157 or 158. Kaiser promises to be seven pounds lighter than he was last time, making their weights nearer even, and giving Hanson a better opportunity to show his skill and science of wrestling. Kaiser being lighter, can also put up a more scientific match.

FALL REUNION BEGINS.

Scottish Rite Masons Confer Higher Degrees to Class of Candidates.

The fall convocation of the Co-Ordinate Bodies of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry of the Valley of Wilmington began yesterday morning and will continue through tomorrow night. Degrees from the Fourth to the Fourteenth were conferred yesterday by Johnson Blakeley Lodge of Perfection and last night Cape Fear Chapter Rose Croix conferred the degrees from the 15th to 18th, inclusive.

Degrees from the 19th through the 30th will be conferred today and tonight by Liberty Council of Kadosh, and tomorrow night Wilmington Consistory will confer the 31st and 32nd degrees.

ORGANIZING COMMITTEES.

Those Appointed to Serve Requested to Notify Executive Committee.

The executive committee of the Cape Fear Fair, as the annual corn show and industrial exhibit in Wilmington will be known this year, requests that those who have been notified to serve on committees signify their acceptance by dropping a line to the committee. The letters should be addressed to Postoffice box No. 815, Wilmington. The executive committee desires to get down to active work immediately and it is very important that the committees get busy. A meeting of the committee chairmen will be held tonight.

EXHIBITS LEAVE TODAY.

New Hanover County Will be Represented Creditably at State Fair.

The exhibits from New Hanover county for the State Fair next week will go forward today. They are being loaded on a car at the freight station of the Atlantic Coast Line. Mr. J. P. Herring, county farm demonstrator, will go to Raleigh to place the exhibits in the space that has been reserved for this county. He will be in Raleigh during the Fair. This is the first time in several years that New Hanover has sent an exhibit to the State Fair.

—Mr. McD. L. McCall, who for several years has been connected with the Bradstreet office here, will go to Richmond, Va., tomorrow to be with the Bradstreet office in that city. Mr. McCall made good here and going to Richmond is a substantial promotion. His many friends are sorry to see him leave the city, but are glad to learn of his promotion.

The ladies were much pleased with the splendid showing made. They will recommend to the board of directors, which meets next Thursday, that a club house be maintained at the beach next summer. The financial report showed a net profit this summer of $74.35 which was considered very good in view of the low rates charged. This will be carried over until next year. There were 2,065 meals served and over 400 regular guests. The recreation club this year numbered 143 members.

One section of the embroidery class will meet tonight at 8 o'clock. Miss Catherine Schonwald is the instructor.

The sewing and dressmaking class will meet tonight at 8 o'clock for its first lesson. This class will meet in a room in the gymnasium which has been fitted up especially for its use.

WINNERS FOR SEPTEMBER

In Channel Bass Competition of New Hanover Fishing Club.

Fishing in the vicinity of Wilmington for the month of September was unusually good and there was probably more large channel bass caught than ever known before. In addition to the winners of the four prizes offered by the New Hanover Fishing Club, all weighing more than 30 pounds, there were four other members reporting catches of over 30 pounds. This is a great improvement over August when the winning fish for first prize weighed only 14 pounds. Several other large fish were caught by persons, not members of the club.

The winners of the four prizes offered by the club for September are as follows:

First—Mr. A. L. Howard, 39 1-2 pounds, at Queen's Inlet on September 6th, 200 yards of line, donated by Springer Hardware Company.

Second—Mr. J. W. Freeman, 37 1-2 pounds, at Shell Island, on September 24th, umbrella, donated by Southerland & Weaver.

Third—Mr. Ed Housbee, 34 1-2 pounds, at Mason's Inlet on September 22nd, bale of hay, donated by Mr. Jos. H. Watters.

Fourth—Mr. S. J. Cockrell, 3 91-2 pounds, at Mason's Inlet on September 20th, box of cigars, donated by A. B. Croom Co.

JUDGE BELIEVES IN CHANGE

George W. Bornemann Cuts Mustache and Says He Feels Young as a Boy.

Many friends who called yesterday at the office of Judge George W. Bornemann were surprised to see the large black mustache, that he had worn so many years, shaved off and a bright smile in its place.

"Nobody has a right to grow old in ways," says the venerable Judge. "If one keeps his life filled with change, never wears a thing until he becomes known by it rather than by his own personality, always leads a clean moral life, has love in his heart for his fellowmen, he should smile at 80 as well as at 30 years of age."

The Judge is an excellent source for news and always sought by newspaper men of the city, who enjoy their calls as well as get news while there. He teaches them to mix pleasure with their business and never believe the common talk that the two won't go together. He says it is over indulgence that is bad for business. In the rear of his office the Judge often entertains for whoever calls on either business or pleasure. His accordian has been heard by many of the best citizens of Wilmington.

FUNERAL OF MR. LAW

Solemn Service Held at Yopp's Undertaking Parlors.

Many sympathizing friends were in attendance yesterday at the funeral of Mr. Edward Raymond Law, whose death occurred at his recidence, No. 508 Church street, Tuesday morning at 2 o'clock. The services were conducted at Yopp's undertaking parlors by Rev. W. Marshall Craig, acting pastor of the First Baptist church, assisted by Rev. A. J. Parker, pastor of Fifth Avenue Methodist church, yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Interment was made in Bellevue cemetery.

The pallbearers were: Messrs. J. R. Darden, Pal. Vaugnn, C. H. Huband, W. E. McGee, J. H. Hewlett and R. W. Pridgen.

Arrested After Five Months.

B. G. Graves, white, was in this city about the first of last May and at that time a warrant was sworn out, charging him with false pretense. The warrant had been kept by the ever watchful police and yesterday the man was found in the city again. The warrant was at once dug up from among the archieves and served on him, who gave bond for his appearance before the Recorder. It was charged that Graves had posed as a special representative of the Coast Line and Seaboard railroads and secured money on the strength of the confidence in these companies.

Don't Use Curling Iron! Here's a Better Method

(Woman Beautiful.)

By no means use a heated iron. It makes the hair dry and dead looking, giving a most unkempt appearance. After brushing the hair thoroughly, just dip a clean tooth brush in a saucer of plain liquid silmerine and run it through the parts of the hair to be quite surprised when you behold yourself in the mirror next morning. The hair will be beautifully wavy and curling and the effect will appear altogether natural.

You will have no trouble doing up your tresses in the style you desire and they will look and feel fluffy and comfortable. You need not hesitate to use pure liquid silmerine, which you can procure at any druggist's, as it is perfectly harmless and will leave no greasy, gummy or streaky trace. A few ounces will last for months.

who lives in the same block. "I'd like to have some rest. It's a shame the way negro women and also negro men carry on."

Councilman McCaig told of recent visits to Norfolk and Washington and stated that both cities allow skating on the sidewalks.

Mayor Moore thought that something ought to be done. The discussion was ended by placing the matter in the hands of Councilman Hall until an amended ordinance can be adopted by Council at its next meeting.

Mr. F. G. Cover, superintendent of the Murchison National Bank building, asked for a lower rate for water to be used for fire protection, the regular rate being $16 for a quarter. He stated that it had been necessary to drill an artesian well because of the alum in the city water. He wanted to have a meter installed and to pay for all water used, but thought no charge should be made, if no water is used. Mr. W. E. Merritt, superintendent of water and sewerage, said that the rate was the same as that charged others. Council declined to take any action.

Councilman Bunting called attention to the difficulty of merchants on Front street, between Princess and Chestnut, in getting merchandise into their stores because of the parking of automobiles since the change in the ordinances requiring vehicles to go to the corner to make turns. It was decided to adopt an ordinance at the next meeting prohibiting the parking of machines on this block and several others in the business district.

Mr. Einstein, who lives on Third street, near Church, was before Council to call attention to the fact that several attempts had been made recently to enter his home. He had employed a plainclothesman for several weeks but without success in catching the would-be burglar. He thought that the city should help him in getting protection. He suggested that bloodhounds be purchased. The matter was left in the hands of Councilman Hall, who stated that he would most likely get several dogs to run down the burglars, if any more attempts to burglarize houses are made.

Upon recommendation of Councilman McCaig, the city clerk and treasurer was authorized to turn over to the assistant city attorney a list of 40 or 50 special license tax delinquents. The city clerk and treasurer was also authorized to notify a number of people to have sidewalks in front of their property laid. Several recommendations as to minor changes in the city's system of accounting, as outlined in the last report of the auditor, were ordered adopted in the office of the city clerk and treasurer.

Matthews and Walter L. Wallis have gone from this city to enter upon their new duties. Messrs. Matthews and Wallis will remain in Wilmington until such time as the new store has secured its footing, returning to the Charlotte store after the completion of the work of organization.

"The Wilmington establishment, the 13th in the State-wide chain maintained by Belk Bros. was recently purchased from George O. Gaylord, who had operated a department store in Wilmington for a number of years. A five-year lease was secured upon the building and the change of ownership became effective at once."

HEAVY DECLINE IN COTTON

Following Declaration of Cotton Futures Law Unconstitutional. Close Barely Steady.

New York, Oct. 13.—There were violent fluctuations in the cotton market today, an early advance of $1.50 per bale being lost following reports that the Federal court had declared the cotton futures law unconstitutional. January contracts sold off from 13.08 to 12.77, closing at 12.78, with the general list barely steady, net one point lower to three points higher as compared with Monday's final figures.

The market opened firm at an advance of 17 to 25 points and during the early trading sold 29 to 30 points net higher on a continuation of oMnday's buying movement. The impression prevailed that the recent cold weather in the northern half of the belt had practically eliminated the possibility of any top crop while the rainfall shown on today's map increased the tendency to scale down estimates of the yield. Offerings increased, however, and the market soon became slightly easier. Liverpool was rather a heavy seller here while there was a good deal of realizing by buyers of last week, and there was a more general spurt of liquidation right after the market received reports of the court's decision in the Lever Act case. This seemed to unsettle sentiment and the market lost practically all of its arly improvement. Trading then became less active, and the selling tapered off following statements that the court's decision, even if sustained, would not affect the status of New York contracts for a year in any event, and rallies of 9 or 10 points followed the break. The market continued nervous and unsettled, however, and closing prices were within a point or so of the lowest, on reports that spots were being offered more freely in the South.

Cotton futures closed barely steady:

New York, October 13. — Cotton goods and yarns were firm today, but rather quiet. Worsted yarns were sold at irregular prices. Knit goods were active.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Decision on Cotton Futures Act and Active Selling Causes Decline.

New Orleans, Oct. 13.—The tendency of cotton today was downward. Selling was stimulated by favorable reports and by the United State District Court decision in New York that the Federal cotton futures act was unconstitutional. Around the middle of the day the market lost $2 a bale on these features, although it was quickly discovered that the decision against the Futures Act would not be immediately the important bearish factor expected. The market was steady in the afternoon and closed at a net loss of 22 to 27 points.

First prices were down 4 to 5 points on selling which appeared to result from the absence of frost on the weather map. After the call prices went 5 to 6 points over yesterday's close. The weekly weather and crop summaries did not contain as much mention of cold weather as the bulls anticipated and liquidation followed. This selling movement was well under way when the decision against the futures act was announced.

Prices fell 40 to 43 points from the highest. When it was predicted that the futures case would probably be carried to the higher court the market recovered 20 to 22 points.

Cotton futures closed as follows: October 12.17; December 12.44; January 12.63; March 12.88; May 13.03.

Spot cotton unchanged; sales on the spot 240; to arrive 950 bales; middling 12.½.

Corn gained 1⅝ to 1¾, and oats ⅝@¾ to ⅞. In provisions, the outcome varied from 10c. decline to a rise of 25c.

SPECIALTIES AGAIN LEADING

Result of Extensive Foreign Buying—Railroads and Other High Grade Shares Fall—New Records.

New York, Oct. 13.—Specialties resumed first place in speculative importance today, rails and other high grade shares falling behind, mainly as a result of extensive foreign selling. In fact, the market's professional tone was at decided variance with recent days, when the strength of seasoned stocks offered hope of a revival of interest from invesement sources.

A majority of the better known railroads were 1 or 2 points lower. Reading and the Pacifics, Eries, Grangers were offered for European account to the extent of 60,000 shares.

War shares was foremost in the rise of the specialties. Bethlehem Steel rose 16 points to the new high record of 465, and Studebaker also broke all previous records with a gain of 94 to 164. The Maxwell Motors issues rose 3 to 4 points above all previous levels. General Motors, Baldwin Locomotive and Lackawanna Steel, as well as minor industrials and allied issues improved 2 to 4 points.

The market derived much of its impetus from United States Steel which aqvanced 1 3-4 to 84 3-4, its top quotation since 1910, and within 11 points of its record of 1909. Total sales amounted to 1,245,000 shares, Steel contributing 168,000.

Among the market factors of the day were the highly favorable foreign trade balance, the further reduction of idle freight cars and advices from various sections of the country pointing to betterment in all lines of trade.

Quotations for foreign exchange were virtually unchanged from Monday's low points on nominal trading.

The bonds market was strong, with increased activity in copper convertibles at higher prices. Total sales par value were $5,170,000.

Government bonds were unchanged on call.

COTTON SEED OIL MARKET.

New York, Oct. 13.—Transactions in the cotton seed oil market made a new high record today—56,700 barrels. At the opening commission houses were very heavy buyers on the strength in lard and cotton and on bullish crop news, advancing prices about 40 points over Monday's close. The rise induced more liberal offerings of crude, however, and heavy profit-taking occurred in the afternoon, destroying more than half the advance, with near positions especially weak. Final prices were 11 points lower to 20 net higher.

The market closed easier. Spots, 7.75@8.00; October, 7.80@8.00; November, 8.05@8.10; December, 8.07@10.00; January, 8.14@8.19; February, 8.26@8.29; March, 8.32@8.33; April, 8.39@8.40; May, 8.43@8.44.

MISSES BURKHEIMER DELIGHT.

"The Girl Who Dared" Makes Distinct Hit at Wadesboro.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wadesboro, N. C., Oct. 13.—The play presented here last night by Misses Bessie and Florence Burkheimer, entitled "The Girl Who Dared," was more than entertaining, it was charming. The school auditorium was packed to its utmost capacity and every one went away singing the praises of the entire cast. Every one who participated showed marked evidence of talent and excellent training. Perhaps the male quartette received more applause than any of the others. Miss Bessie Burkheimer, as "The Girl Who Dared," gave ample evidence of her familiarity with the stage and a natural talent as a stage artist, as did her sister, Miss Florence, representing the wealthy Mrs. Rothfield, seeking a titled husband for her only daughter.

VAUDEVILLE IN GERARD HALL.

"Stunt" Pulled Off by Members of Dramatic Club at Chapel Hill.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Chapel Hill, N. C., Oct. 13.—"Boys Will be Boys," Strange to say this statement was disproved last night when several members of the dramatic club "pulled off" a vaudeville stunt in Gerard Hall. That boys will not always be boys was proved when Bruce Webb and Sidney Blackmer danced as well as any chorus girl that one would wish to see, and what is more, no distinction was visible. The dancing was not, however, the only attraction for the crowd that filled the "pro tempore" theatre.

COULD SCARCELY WALK ABOUT

And For Three Summers Mrs. Vincent Was Unable to Attend to Any of Her Housework.

Pleasant Hill, N. C.—"I suffered for three summers," writes Mrs. Walter Vincent, of this town, "and the third and last time, was my worst.

I had dreadful nervous headaches and prostration, and was scarcely able to walk about. Could not do any of my housework.

I also had dreadful pains in my back and sides and when one of those weak, sinking spells would come on me, I would have to give up and lie down, until it wore off.

I was certainly in a dreadful state of health, when I finally decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I firmly believe I would have died if I hadn't taken it.

After I began taking Cardui, I was greatly helped, and all three bottles relieved me entirely.

I fattened up, and grew so much stronger in three months, I felt like another person altogether."

Cardui is purely vegetable and gentle-acting. Its ingredients have a mild, tonic effect, on the womanly constitution.

Cardui makes for increased strength, improves the appetite, tones up the nervous system, and helps to make pale, sallow cheeks, fresh and rosy.

Cardui has helped more than a million weak women, during the past 50 years. It will surely do for you, what it has done for them. Try Cardui today.

WORK OF W. C. T. U. FOR NEXT YEAR MAPPED OUT

Wilmington Selected for Next Annual State Convention

Officers and Superintendents Re-Elected—Examinations for Teachers Today—"Dixie" Bowler Secretary of Chamber.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 13.—Following the State convention in progress here the past week, the executive committee of the North Carolina Woman's Christian Temperance Union has fully organized for the coming year with, however, no material changes from the superintendents and other workers who served the past year. The convention made no changes in the officers for the next year and then the officers followed suit in re-appointment of their assistants all down the line.

The invitations for the 1916 convention from Bethel, Pitt county, and Wilmington having been referred to the executive committee, Wilmington has been agreed upon and the work has been passed for a year of aggressive effort that will make the best showing in the history of the Union when the delegates assemble next year in Wilmington. The names of the superintendents of the work of the Union for their respective localities are of interest. They follow:

Evangelistic work, Mrs. Laura A. Winston, Raleigh; prison work, Mrs. R. M. Meredith, Raleigh; almshouses, Mrs. J. B. Scarboro, Greensboro; scientific temperance, Mrs. B. M. Mann, Greensboro; unfermented wine campaign, Mrs. E. M. Battis, Greensboro; Sabbath observance, Mrs. S. H. Scott, Newbern; mother's meetings and purity, Mrs. Elizabeth Turner, Asheville; railroad employes, Mrs. F. V. Barrier, Salisbury; temperance literature, Mrs. Augusta Leggett, Hobgood; press, Mrs. D. W. Hatcher, Salisbury; medal contests, Mrs. Mary E. White, Guilford College; co-operation with missionary societies, Mrs. B. E. Moore, High Point; auditing and finance, Mrs. Nannie Weatherly, Greensboro; flower mission work, Mrs. S. M. White, Reidsville; open air meetings, Mrs. G. N. Walters, Raleigh; citizenship, Mrs. J. E. M. Leavenport, Pineville; branch secretaries, young people, Mrs. Frances Renfrow Doak, Guilford College; loyal temperance union, Mrs. William Boetcher, Elizabeth City.

Charters were issued today for new corporations as follows: Woodard & Whitley (Inc.), Wilson, capital $50,000 authorized and $15,000 subscribed by L. L. Woodard and J. H. and Minnie Whitley for a cotton seed oil mill and other business.

The Co-Operative Association of Producers and Consumers Exchange, of Wilson, capital $50,000 authorized and $500 subscribed.

Teachers' Examinations Today.

At the county seats all over North Carolina today and tomorrow the county superintendents of schools are holding, under the direction of the State Board of Examiners, examinations for teachers desiring State high school certificates and five-year teachers' certificates. There are scarcely as many taking the examinations as usual, owing to the large number who were examined at the various summer schools. There are now outstanding 1,300 certificates for high school teachers and 300 State school teachers' certificates. Teaching in the high schools is not permitted except by teachers holding these certificates, and the five-year certificates for grammar schools are good in any county in the State.

The automobile of President J. H. King, of King's Business College, Raleigh and Charlotte, ran into a delivery wagon of the Model Steam Laundry on Newbern avenue this morning and killed the horse and smashed the wagon badly. Mr. King was being driven by a chauffeur. Both vehicles were going in the same direction and the driver claims that the steering gear failed to respond.

Dixie Bowler Secretary.

President John A. Park, of the Raleigh chamber of commerce, announces that A. T. (Dixie) Bowler, for three years paying teller in the Citizens' National Bank, will become secretary of the chamber November 1, succeeding Miss Bessie Hackney, who has served with remarkable success for nearly two years. The chamber was not able to devote $150 per month to the salary of a secretary, the amount necessary to retain Miss Hackney in the service.

diplomatic and parliamentary quarters in France, owing to the prominent part he had taken in shaping the foreign policy of the government since the first months of the war, when he resumed his old place at the head of the foreign office. His retirement at this particular moment when the Balkan crisis has become acute, caused some surprise, though those closely identified with governmental affairs, were not entirely unprepared for the change.

One of the main reasons assigned for his retirement is that he is suffering greatly from fatigue, amounting to nervous exhaustion, which has resulted from the burden of anxieties in directing France's foreign policy.

Premier Viviani virtually has been directing the foreign affairs of the country in the last five days since it first was announced that M. DelCasse was indisposed.

INTENTION OF GREECE IS TO REMAIN NEUTRAL

Sends Rejoinder to Serbia on Bulgarian Aggression.

Explains Alliance of 1911 Was Limited to Preserving an Equilibrium Among the Balkan States. Will Remain Armed.

Athens, via Paris, Oct. 13.—The Greek reply to Serbia's representations that the Bulgarian attack on Serbia completes the act of aggression contemplated under the treaty of alliance between Greece and Serbia and asking if the Greek army is ready to enter action against Bulgaria, was delivered today.

Beginning with the declaration that "the royal government greatly regrets that it is unable to accede to Serbia's request," the reply explains that the alliance of 1911, while foreseeing Bulgarian aggression, was limited to preserving an equilibrium among the Balkan states.

"The preamble of the treaty," the reply continues, "defines it as of purely Balkan character, not applying to a general conflagration. Both the treaty of alliance and the military convention completing it prove in the first article that the contracting parties contemplated only isolated attacks by Bulgaria against one of them."

The note minutely argues that the treaty does not cover the situation which has arisen today—a situation in which "Greece might destroy herself without hope of saving Serbia which cannot wish such a result." It is added that common interests demand that the Greek forces still be kept in reserve for a better use later.

The note concludes with the declaration that Greece intends to remain an armed neutral and "assures Serbia that Greece will continue to give her every assistance and facility compatible with Greece's exclusively international position."

Miss Wilson to Wed Same Day as Father

PRESIDENT'S ONLY UNMARRIED DAUGHTER TO BECOME BRIDE OF FRANK E. COMPTON, CHICAGO PUBLISHER.

(Richmond Times-Dispatch.)

Chicago, Oct. 13.—Frank Elbert Compton, Chicago publisher, is engaged to marry Miss Margaret Wilson, the President's eldest and only unmarried daughter.

The wedding is scheduled to take place on the same day that Mrs. Norman Bolling Galt becomes the bride of President Woodrow Wilson.

Frank E. Compton is president of the F. E. Compton Publishing Company, 58 East Washington street. He is 42 years of age, a widower, the father of an eight-year-old boy and the adopted father of a little girl. He has a bachelor residence at Glencoe and is a member of the Shokie Country Club. He first met Miss Wilson in Florida several years ago, and they renewed their acquaintance last year when Miss Wilson attended the national convention of civic workers at Madison, Wis. He visited Miss Wilson last August at the "Summer White House" at Cornish, N. H.

The marriage has not been formally announced.

for the trenches with fluctuating success. The Allies maintain all their larger gains and are pressing the Germans in Flanders and Champagne.

In the eastern the Russians have won an important victory in Galicia, routing three Austro-German divisions on the Stripa river. In the north they have pushed Field Marshal von Hindenburg several miles farther west of Dvinsk, and are again approaching the Dvinsk-Vilna railway.

The activity of the British submarines in the Baltic continues and Germany is now convoying her steamers to and from Sweden.

mend favorably all cases where proof is submitted that the orders were entered with German or Austrian manufacturers prior to March 1, which, according to trade customs, obligated the purchaser to pay.

About 150 cases have been submitted to the embassy and representations have been made asking that consideration of the cases be expedited, and, as it virtually will be impossible to dispose of all of them before the British agreement expires on November 1, an effort probably will be made to extend the agreement.

Negotiations already have been begun looking to inclusion in the agreement of contracts entered into by American importers between March 1 and March 15.

SUGGESTS PRIZES FOR THE CORN CLUB BOYS.

Mr. J. P. Herring Would be Glad to Have Citizens Offer Something.

Mr. J. P. Herring, county farm demonstrator, suggests that public spirited citizens in Wilmington or New Hanover county assist in getting up some prizes to offer the Corn Club boys, who will have exhibits at the Corn Show in November. Mr. Herring states that the boys have worked hard to provide creditable exhibits and he thinks that they should be given some reward for their efforts. The prizes need not be money, he states, but a plow, a pig or any farm implement will do just as well.

Mr. Herring states that he does not expect to do any soliciting but that if any person feels disposed to help in the matter, he will be glad to have them notify some member of the executive committee of the Corn Show.

SOLICITOR CAN'T HAVE SALARY AND FEES BOTH

First Torrens Land Case Decided by Supreme Court.

Fifteen Appeals Disposed Of—Bunn vs A. C. L. Railroad, Plaintiff's Appeal, No. Error; Defendant's Appeal, Reversed.

(Special Star Telegram).

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 13.—The Supreme Court disposed of 15 appeals in a batch of opinions delivered this afternoon. One of special interest was Empire Manufacturing Company, of Goldsboro, vs. L. B. Spruill, being the first appeal involving North Carolina's new Torrens land title law.

The Supreme Court sustains the lower court, holding that there is nothing in the Torrens act to cut off claimants of adverse title from full examination and decision of their claims and that it was intended to give once for all the fullest examination into all controversies over the title to lands set out in the petitions because thereafter the order of the court in such causes would be conclusive, lunatics and the like whose rights through extraordinary circumstances, have been invaded and required adjustment.

The Supreme Court reversed Judge Bond in his ruling below that Solicitor C. L. Abernathy was entitled to both the flat salary of $600 in Pitt county and to the solicitor's fees that are paid in by defendants, the effect being that the solicitor must be content with the $600 provided by special act of the last Legislature in lieu of all fees that would ordinarily go to the solicitor. In making up the case below, Senator Harding and Representatives Laughinghouse and Galloway, of Pitt, certified that the purpose of the act, through agreement with Solicitor Abernathy, was that the $600 take the place of all fees.

In W. A. Bunn vs Atlantic Coast Line, the Supreme Court reversed the lower court, holding that the plaintiff is not entitled to recover under any aspect of the evidence. Bunn was injured through falling off the side of a box car he was repairing. He obtained a verdict for damages below.

The full list of opinions delivered follows: Bunn vs Atlantic Coast Line, Edgecombe county, plaintiff's appeal, no error, defendant's appeal, reversed; Everett vs. Austin, Edgecombe, affirmed; Bangert vs Lumber Co., Craven, reversed; Griffin vs Drainage Commissioners, Craven, affirmed; Kilpatrick vs Harvey,, Pitt, dismissed; Abernathy vs Commissioners of Pitt, reversed; Humphrey vs Lang, Pitt, affirmed; Thomas vs Merrill, Carteret, affirmed; Hoyle vs White, Craven, reversed; Sugg vs Greenville, Pitt, new trial; Manufacturing Co. vs Spruill, Pamlico, appeal dismissed; Bryan vs Canady, Onslow, affirmed; Conday vs Kinston Oil Mills Co., Lenoir, affirmed; Sidbury vs Pine Lumber Co., Onslow, affirmed; Boone vs Vann, Duplin, affirmed.

$400,000,000 FOR NATIOMAL DEFENSE MAY BE ASKED FOR all legislation in the hope that several months time will be saved in construction for the navy and strengthening of the amry.

Chairman Hay, of the House military affairs committee, will confer with the President tomorrow concerning the plans for the army, and Monday Secretary Garrison is expected to begin a series of talks with the President on the defense programme.

Daniels Idea Approved.

Secretary Daniels already has had an opportunity to get the President's ideas on naval appropriations. Mr. Daniels said today that both the President and Chairman Padgett, of the House naval affairs committee, seemed to approve of the idea of a five year naval building programme. Detailed estimates of the amount to be expended each year have not been determined.

"We have been considering and we intend to recommend to Congress a programme for five years," said the Secretary. "Of course no Congress can bind another, but if Congress would appropriate on the basis of a five years building plan, we could go forward on construction more rapidly than formerly. I believe Congress will do it."

The Secretary added that in his conference with the General Board the number of ships of the battle cruiser and dreadnaught type to be recommended had not yet been decided. He believed, however, more dreadnaughts than battle cruisers would be asked for, and, while he declined to give figures, intimations in naval quarters were that four capital fighting ships would be recommended for the first of the five years, three the second year, and enough thereafter to make a total of between fifteen and twenty for the entire period.

"I believe the European war has shown us," said Mr. Daniels, "the great value, not only of air craft, but of fast heavily armed vessels and scout cruisers and the importance of big guns. Particularly it has taught us that we must have larger supplies of ammunition than Congress or the General Board has hitherto provided."

The Secretary revealed that most of the information sought from American naval attaches abroad before making up next year's building programme had arrived. He said the delay in building the two battleships authorized by the last Congress was due to a desire to perfect plans for protection of these vessels against the torpedo.

RAILROADS PAY $200,000 IN TAXES TO THE STATE.

All Have Paid Except the Seaboard, Whose Check is Expected.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 13.—It develops that the State will realize about $200,000 from taxes on railroad companies this year, these taxes being all paid into the Treasury now except that due by the Seaboard Air Line, which has been held up by the Federal court suit the company has recently withdrawn in which it was attempted to restrain the State authorities from collecting the tax on the basis of the $20,000,000 assessment instead of the old $15,000,000 assessment. The Seaboard check for $55,679 is expected to come in to the Treasury any day now.

cargoes of dyes from Germany for which safe passage was assured by permits granted by the British government, upon the express condition that the Secretary of Commerce would be the consignee. The embargo upon the exportation of these cargoes from Germany has not been lifted. Arrangements, however, made by American manufacturers with the British government has permitted the exportation to the United States of the dyes coming on the St. Louis. It is hoped that this is the first of a series of similar shipments."

The State Department announced today that practically every obstacle had been removed incident to the releasing of the cargoes of licorice roots now being held in Asia Minor by the Allies' blockade. Great Britain and France at first agreed to release the shipments if this country would provide American bottoms. Before the vessels could be secured, however, the Allies again changed their minds. The State Department believes that this government will be able to meet every demand asked by Great Britain and that the licorice shipments will be landed in this country before the present supply gives out. Major Stedman started the movement when he and Colonel Osborne took the matter up with Counsellor Polk, some weeks ago. Because of his friendship for the Fifth District Congressman, Counsellor Polk took a personal interest in the matter, and it is believed he will be successful.

of more than 70 persons connected with the case either as defendant or alleged co-conspirator to ascertain from each talesmen whether he had had dealings with or was acquainted with them.

The three tentative jurors selected were Daniel M. Flanagan, retired dry goods merchant; Max Hartmann, commission merchant, and Albert B. Welldon, a builder. It was not thought tonight that a jury would be picked until Friday.

Migraine or Sick Headache

Dr. J. J. Caldwell says that this exceedingly distressing disease does not shorten life, but does not appear to be curable. Sufferers from this affliction are condemned to undergo the periodical attacks every few weeks until they are forty years of age, after which the attacks are less frequent, and finally disappear entirely. Palliative measures during the attack are all that it is possible to suggest, while care in the diet is the best preventive measure. An attack may often be prevented by taking two Anti-kamnia Tablets when the first symptoms appear, and one Anti-kamnia Tablet every two hours during the attack shortens it, eases the pain and brings rest and quiet.

Anti-kamnia may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for A-K Tablets. They quickly relieve all pain.
